Reds Ask Treaty Wind-Up

Russo-Austrian Note Says Austria Agrees Not to Join Alliance Or Admit Any Bases

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government called today for the speedy conclusion of an Austrian independence treaty and withdrawal of all occupation troops not later than next Dec. 31.

A joint Soviet-Austrian communique issued this afternoon said Austrian Chancellor Julius Raab had assured Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov that Austria will not join any military alliances or permit the establishment of any foreign military bases in its territory.

The Soviet government also pledged: (1) to settle its reparations bill against Austria for the equivalent of 150 million dollars in Austrian goods; (2) to return to Austria all former German property in the Soviet zone including the Danube Shipping Co., and (3) to return the Austrian oil fields and refineries which the Russians have been operating during their 10-year occupation.

The joint communique summed up the results of negotiations between Molotov, Raab and their aides which began here Tuesday. It was issued two hours after the Austrian government chief, Deputy Chancellor Adolf Schaefer and his party left in a Soviet military plane for Vienna.

"We leave here happy people," said Raab as he boarded the plane.

The Austrian-Russian agreement is expected to be followed soon by a Big Four conference at which the three Western occupation powers would be called on to add their consent to the revised treaty.

Schaefer indicated such agreement was considered most likely. Raab, Foreign Minister Leopold Figl and his aides left for Vienna by Soviet military plane at noon. Just before they took off, Raab told newsmen:

"We are satisfied. I believe it will turn out well."

The Soviet-Austrian agreement was the fruit of three days' intensive bargaining between Molotov, Raab and their aides.

Senators Want Dulles' Account Of Release Try

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two more senators called today for an accounting from Secretary of State Dulles of U.N. efforts to obtain release of 15 U.S. airmen jailed in Red China.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said Dulles should tell the Senate Foreign Relations Committee "exactly what the situation is today."

If Dag Hammarskjold, U.N. secretary general, has failed in his attempt to win the fliers' freedom, Hickenlooper said, the United States "should consider what to do, either unilaterally or with the help of our allies."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) cautioned against "impassioned or indiscreet" demands for tough U.S. counter-action but he said Congress "should have a complete report from Dulles and we should get that report next Tuesday."

Dulles is slated to go before the committee that day to answer questions on last month's publication of the long - secret Yalta papers.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, and Sen. Morse (R-Ore.) joined yesterday in a demand for testimony by State and Defense Department officials next week on Hammarskjold's January mission to Peiping.

The United States has accused Red China of holding the 15 Americans in violation of the Korean armistice. Most of them are serving jail sentences on "spy" charges denounced as false by this country.

Time to Check Up

Nice day for driving, isn't it? But you'd better be sure you have your city sticker displayed on your windshield.

Generally fair and warmer tonight. Saturday mostly cloudy. High Saturday near 75. Low tonight in lower 50s.

The temperature at 7 a.m. was 45, 82 at 1 p.m., and 83 at 2 p.m.

The temperature one year ago today, high 76, low 57, with .65 inch of moisture; two years ago today, high 60, low 41, with .07 inch of moisture; and three years ago, high 60, low 31.

Jaycees Sponsor Their Second Annual Home Show April 26-28

"The newest and best for your home," is the slogan of the Second Annual Home Show sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce which will be held at Convention Hall, Liberty Park, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 26, 27 and 28.

The hours of the show will be from 2:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. each of the three days and women's clubs will be given special guided tours of the show during the afternoon.

Local Youths Slightly Hurt In Auto Crash

Car Out of Control On South Kentucky; Is Badly Damaged

Three Sedalia youths received minor injuries about 12:25 p.m. Friday when the car in which they were riding went out of control on South Kentucky and overturned just north of 28th street. The 1941 Ford two - door sedan they were riding in was badly damaged.

Willis Alkire, 17, 509 West Second, driver of the automobile suffered a laceration on the bridge of his nose and one under the eye-brow, both which necessitated the taking of several stitches. A cut on the back of his head, severe bruises about the right eye, bruises and several minor cuts about his hands.

Alkire is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Alkire. Darryl Potter, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett E. Potter, 1010 East Broadway, received abrasions on the right elbow and laceration on the middle finger of the right hand.

Dickie Craig, 15, 509 West Second, son of Mr. Ralph B. Craig, received a laceration to the under part of the upper lip and on the front of his top gum.

Alkire said he was going about 45 miles per hour, "too fast for the front end of my car," he said, "and it got out of control." The right rear tire was flat when the car stopped.

The car swerved back and forth on the blacktop for approximately 750 feet, went sideways and then turned completely over. The top was smashed in at the front, the windshield knocked out of the car and the left front fender damaged.

All three boys are registered students at Smith-Cotton High School, but a check revealed they had been absent through the entire day.

Two Jets Crash About Same Time In Chicago Near Populous Areas

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Air Force jet fighter planes crashed almost simultaneously in the Chicago area last night, both narrowly missing residential areas.

The pilot of one of the F96D Sabrejets was killed. The other pilot suffered only cuts and bruises as he parachuted to safety.

The dead pilot was Capt. Richard C. Panter, 26, of suburban Des Plaines.

Both planes, on a training flight, were en route from Grandview, Mo., to their base at O'Hare Field, west of Chicago.

Wreckage of one plane was found just south of a residential area of Park Ridge, a suburb northwest of Chicago. The pilot's body lay nearly 1,000 yards from the main part of the wreckage.

The other pilot, who identified himself to police as Lt. David Bollinger, 25, Omaha, Neb., bailed out and landed in the backyard of a West Chicago home. His plane went down in a field near Wayne, Ill., about 30 miles west of Chicago.

Jaycees Burn House In Clean-up Campaign

LAYTON, Utah (AP)—With a flare for the unusual, members of the Layton Junior Chamber of Commerce have burned down a house.

Mrs. Lettie Adams touched a match to the 75-year-old two-story frame and adobe structure.

The stunt was to draw attention to the community's spring clean-up paint-up and fix-up campaign. Firemen were on hand to prevent the fire from spreading.

Japanese Reds Print Instruction On How To Make Bombs, Guns

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Communist party has toned down formerly secret publications and put them on public sale.

At each booth the products on exhibit will be explained and the guide may be asked any questions about them. Not only that, but the children's check room will be open where mothers may check their youngsters while they see the show. This will be a great aid for the mothers and lots of fun for the youngsters because the big play room, with capable attendants, will have many toys and things of interest for little boys and girls.

The Home Show this year will have features of various kinds with admittance free, free entertainment and free gifts. There will be samples of all types given out.

This year, too, the Jaycees are giving the high school students in this area from the eighth grade on up an opportunity to compete in the model house contest. Any high school student from this area in all directions up to and including Marshall, Warsaw, Warrensburg and California may enter miniature model houses of his own design. The prizes are worth-while: $50 for the first prize; $25, second prize; $15, third prize, all cash awards.

Among the entertainment features will be the Bird Brothers from the B and B Corral, Nig, the trained Labrador retriever owned by Rex Phillips of the Bothwell Hotel, and it is also planned to have a clown.

Nearly all the exhibition space has been contracted for by the leading merchants, manufacturers and distributors of building and home furnishing lines, but there are still a few booths available. They are going fast, though, and by the opening date every corner of the building will shine with the newest and finest of everything for the home.

In the Bothwell Hospital are Miss Helen Boydston, 34, 4348 Montgall, and Miss Arlene Krug, 28, of 4929 Montgall.

Miss Boydston suffered a fracture of the right leg, mild shock, abrasions and bruises.

Miss Krug suffered severe extensive abrasions and cuts about her head and legs, a severe injury to the left shoulder and also neck injuries.

Dr. John E. Lamy attended the two at the local hospital and is having X-ray pictures taken to determine the extent of any fractures and injuries.

According to a report given on the accident, the women were driving on Highway 52, had just crossed a bridge and had missed a curve on the other side of the bridge. The car left the highway, overturned several times and was demolished. The car was a Plymouth hardtop.

Supreme Court Now Deciding Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court's nine justices today began pondering the complexities of putting into precise words orders to wipe out segregation of whites and Negroes in public schools.

Four days of conflicting arguments over what the court should do ended yesterday without any indication that the justices had settled on what they should say in the court's decrees.

"The naked question," as Justice Black phrased it, was settled last May 17. On that day the court struck down its 1896 "separate but equal doctrine," and said segregation in the schools is unconstitutional.

But the court, saying the "the formulation of decrees on these cases presents problems of considerable complexity," called for legal arguments on how and when to put the historic decision into effect.

Important questions, as well as legal technicalities, still must be decided. Presumably the answers will be forthcoming before the court recesses for the summer in June.

Two Women Are Injured In Accident

Car Leaves Highway Rolls Several Times West of Versailles

A one - car accident three miles west of Versailles on Highway 52 resulted in severe injuries to two Kansas City women about 8:30 a.m. Friday. Both women were brought to Bothwell Hospital from the Dr. Jack Gunn Clinic at Versailles in the Scrivner Funeral Home ambulance.

The women were first rushed to the clinic where Dr. Gunn rendered emergency treatment and examination before having them sent on to Sedalia.

In the Bothwell Hospital are Miss Helen Boydston, 34, 4348 Montgall, and Miss Arlene Krug, 28, of 4929 Montgall.

Miss Boydston suffered a fracture of the right leg, mild shock, abrasions and bruises.

Swiss, Swedes Blast Commies On Truce Team

TOKYO (AP)—Swiss and Swedish officers say the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission is "a complete failure and a farce in Korea."

They accuse Communist Polish and Czech members of the four-nation body of blocking inspections that would have revealed a Red military buildup in North Korea in violation of the armistice.

They also were critical of Allied negotiators who accepted the Armistice clause which set up the truce police. The commission has to operate by a majority rule, which gives the Communists a veto.

"I would not want those men to draw up a $5 sales contract for me," one officer told me.

"All the Poles and Czechs had to do to stop inspections in North Korea," said a Swiss officer, "was to vote against such an inspection as 'not necessary.'"

General Strike Looming

Alabama Steel Plant Is Suddenly Circled By Pickets and Its Operations Halted

ATLANTA (AP)—A general strike loomed in Birmingham, Ala., today while troubled Southern governors and mayors called meetings in an effort to settle regional telephone and railroad strikes costing the South millions of dollars and causing ever spreading violence.

Pickets appeared suddenly last night around the Giant Fairfield steel mill of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Division of the U. S. Steel Co., at Birmingham. It is the largest steel mill in the South and employs about 20,000 persons.

R. E. Farr, district director of the United Steel Workers of America (CIO) predicted that all operations at the plant would be halted in sympathy with striking telephone workers, members of the Communications Workers of America (CIO).

Farr said he expected every business in the city hiring CIO workers would feel the effects of the sympathy strike.

The possibility of a general strike in Birmingham came only a few hours after Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky scheduled an unprecedented meeting of Southern governors for Tuesday.

Wetherby called the session as chairman of the Southern Governors Conference "for the purpose of discussing a plan of action for the governors as a group to take to bring about a settlement of these controversies." It will be held in the office of Gov. Frank Clement at Nashville, Tenn.

At Miami, Fla., Mayor Abe Aronovitz sent telegrams to mayors of the two largest cities in states affected by the phone strike and asked them to attend a conference in Miami April 22-23.

Aronovitz said he wants the federal government to give up its authority to deny states the power to compel arbitration in utility strikes.

The telephone and rail strikes are now in their 33rd day. Affected are the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and its subsidiaries in 14 states and the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. serving nine states.

Federal mediators are making emergency efforts in Washington to settle the railroad strike and in Atlanta to reach agreement in the telephone walkout. No real progress has been reported, however.

The Southern Bell walkout has been marked by mob rioting and the dynamiting, cutting and shooting of cables. The Railroad strike has quietly cut deeper into the economic life of the South.

Girl Multimillionaire Without Knowing It For More Than Hour

NEW YORK (AP)—"I was a multimillionaire for more than an hour, and never knew it."

That was the philosophical comment today of Agnes McCann, a red-haired secretary.

She put $11.71 in cash through a bank teller's window yesterday and asked for a certified check to make a quarterly payment on her state income tax.

The teller whipped a check through a machine, put it into an envelope and gave it to Miss McCann. She stuffed it into her handbag and returned to her office.

About an hour later, perturbed bank officials located her and asked if they could have the check back.

It was made out for $2,300,011.71.

Warren Says Is Definitely Not Going to Run Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren today issued a statement saying he will not be a candidate for President of the United States and that "I will not change this decision under any circumstances or conditions."

The Supreme Court chief issued his statement following publication of a poll last Wednesday which indicated that he was first choice for the Republican nomination in 1956 if President Eisenhower decided not to run for a second term.

Warren is a former Republican governor of California. He ran for vice president in 1948 on the Republican ticket with Thomas E. Dewey, then governor New York.

System Installed In St. Louis--

New Long Distance Dialing Network Is Open to Sedalia

Faster long distance service on many calls from Sedalia will become available Sunday when a new long distance dialing network begins operations in St. Louis, Fred Marschel, local manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., said today.

The new equipment means that many long distance calls normally routed from Sedalia through St. Louis will be completed within seconds, instead of minutes, Marschel said.

Customers here will continue to place their calls in the same manner they now do, giving the operator the name of the city and the number they want. However, the Sedalia operators will be able to dial directly through St. Louis to telephones in cities thousands of miles away.

An operator in Sedalia will be able to dial millions of telephones in hundreds of cities, after Sunday.

This national dialing network is being rapidly expanded, and in final form will include more than 55,000,000 telephones in the United States and Canada.

When the long distance operator in Sedalia is given a long distance number to dial, she will use a special three-digit code to dial the geographic area desired. There are 103 of the areas at present, each designated by a different code.

As soon as the long distance dialing equipment receives a code, it recognizes the area desired, and connects the necessary circuits. Then dial equipment in the distant city rings the desired telephone. Part of the equipment can "re-

Expect Polio Vaccine For County Use Soon; No Definite Date Yet

No definite time has been set by the National Foundation for release of Dr. Jonas Salk's polio vaccine to the states, and therefore no definite date can be set for its use in Pettis County, according to Dr. Pete Siegel, speaking for the Pettis County Medical Society.

It is expected that the vaccine will be released to the states in about two or three weeks. Then it must be processed by the state board of health for release to the counties, which will delay it further.

Announcement of the release date for Pettis County and the schedule for mass inoculation here will be published later in The Democrat-Capital.

member" a telephone number while other machines are looking up routes, testing circuits, and making connections. The entire process will take only from 12 to 20 seconds -- giving long distance telephone users service three times as fast as was previously available.

The St. Louis long distance center, an $8,000,000 project designated as national center for the operator distance dialing network, is a joint project of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and the Long Lines Department of American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The result of more than 25 years of research, it took more than four years to build and equip.

Committee Okays School Aid Increase

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's public schools are one step nearer assurance of $5½ million more a year in state aid.

The Senate Appropriations Committee agreed yesterday the state should give the schools 37½ per cent of the general revenue collections, instead of 33 1/3 per cent. The House already has passed the increase.

Now the bill is ready for full Senate consideration. If passed there it would go to conference committee, probably, for minor adjustments.

The one - third allotment to schools gave them about $45 million last year.

Meanwhile, the House is holding a Senate-passed "foundation program" for schools. It would increase the amount of state aid by an estimated $22 million a year. But it must have the approval of the voters as well as that of the Legislature.

The Senate committee lopped $1,485,333 off three House-passed bills before approving them. Most of the reductions were in small amounts.

One bill, allotting $7,635,504 in interest and principal on state school and seminary fund indebtedness was unchanged.

The Senate committee approved an appropriation of $6,790,000 as the final payment of principal and interest on the 1923 road bond issue of $75 million. Every Legislature since 1929 has made payments on those bonds.

Owners Worried When Nag Fails to Place

NEW YORK (AP)—Bangtail Preferred Inc. is worried about its sole asset, a "race horse named Fly" which doesn't.

The bangtail group is made up of 142 advertising people who chipped in $10,000 last May to buy $50 shares in Fly, a three-year-old gelding.

The horse made its first start at Jamaica yesterday -- a $3,800 claiming race for nags that never won a race. He finished dead last in a field of 10.

Vehicle Sticker Roundup

Police Will Issue Tickets to Sedalians For Not Displaying Current City Tags

Police have initiated a drive to roundup and ticket all vehicles owned and operated by Sedalians that are not displaying a current city license sticker, according to Chief Edgar Neighbors. The 1954 sticker is now valid and will remain good until the 1955 stickers go on sale May 1.

The current city stickers will not expire, however, until June 1.

Police action followed a report of delinquent personal taxes that was recently issued by City Collector Paul Alpert. The report listed 200 Sedalians who are being carried in the city files as delinquents for two or more years. The total amount of back taxes, according to the Alpert report, exceeded $5,200.

Some confusion stemmed from preliminary police moves Thursday. It has been explained that police are interested only in notifying and, in instances, handing out tickets to vehicle owners who have not purchased a current tag. Involvement of city vehicle license and personal taxes comes only when a vehicle owner attempts to purchase a city sticker while owing the city back personal taxes.

Alpert explains that under City Ordinance 3510 he can not sell motor vehicle stickers until the party in question pays all delinquent personal taxes. The restriction provides the city collector with a means of collecting delinquent taxes of this nature.

The collection of personal taxes is Alpert's main concern. He can make this collection through the sale of the city's vehicle license, as explained, or by filing civil suit.

The arrest of vehicle operators without proper city license is police responsibility. Ordinances provide a fine of $5 to $100 for the violation of this obligation.

According to the Alpert report all of the 200 persons named have been operating motor vehicles in Sedalia, as residents of the city, for more than two years—any as long as five years—and have never purchased a vehicle license for their automobiles and trucks that are listed on the tax rolls.

The Alpert report came as a move to clear the city's delinquent personal tax file before automobile stickers go on sale May 1. At the time the report was distributed to the mayor and the police chief, he stated that only delinquents of two or more years were included.

All delinquents, according to Alpert, have received at least six notices of back taxes.

Grand Jury Checking Propane Gas Delivery

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis County Circuit Court grand jury held a special session last night in an investigation of the supplying of propane gas for the veterans housing project in Jefferson Barracks.

Edward E. Garnholz, prosecuting attorney, said the investigation has been under way several days.

About 800 family units in converted barracks buildings are operated by the St. Louis County Housing Authority which supplies, through a contractor, the propane gas which is used for heating and cooking.

Burma is chockful of big titles these days, in preparation for the coming important conference in Indonesia. For a rundown of who's who and what's ahead, read the article about it on Page 9.

Some Speed Signs Misplaced

Unfavorable comments are being made about Sedalia speed signs in some locations and the lack of them in others.

The 30-mile an hour signs by Broadway School on Highway 50 apparently should have been 20-mile per hour, or better 15 miles per hour along with "School Zone—Slow Down."

A tourist going through town may see the 30-mile sign a block away before he realizes he is in the Broadway School zone. With only two blocks to go before reaching a dangerous stop light intersection at Ohio and Broadway, a motorist going 30 miles an hour with sign permission is traveling too fast.

Then, too, in the area from Lamine to as far as the M.K.&T. underpass on Broadway (Highway 50) another school zone—the Smith-Cotton High School zone—should be properly marked for reduced speed and no passing. Also the traffic situation on Massachusetts adjoining the high schools needs a few restrictions, including parking. The street is narrow and particularly hazardous at the Ninth Street intersection.

Some sort of survey and recommendations for improvement are invited.

A lover of the "sylvan beauty" of Liberty Park protests there are too many two-bit signs all over the park driveway, and suggests a reduction in their number. On behalf of the nature lovers this suggestion is passed on to the park board. But we do need some speed signs along the park driveways. There has been a tendency of motorists not to adjust their accelerator foot to the requirements of this public beauty spot where children range at large and may be knocked into the ball park by a speeder.

Speaking of park signs, a researcher informs us that the signs designating Washington Park at Broadway and Hancock are incorrect. Officially, by ordinance, the park was named Lydia Montgomery Park some years ago.

Joe Martin Got to FDR Using Elks Card

What she claims to be an untold story on Republican House Leader and Former Speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts has been revealed by Bertha Adkins, assistant to GOP Chairman Leonard Hall.

The story goes back to Franklin D. Roosevelt's days. Martin, as House minority leader, was called to the White House for a legislative conference. But when he got to the gate he discovered that he had left his White House pass home.

A new guard on duty didn't recognize Martin and wouldn't let him in on his Elks' membership card, the only other identification Mr. Martin had on him at the time. But just then one of the Democratic leaders came along. He vouched for Martin and the two went in together.

The story got to the President, however, before the conference began. "Say, Joe," he cracked as Martin entered his office, "how did a Republican like you manage to get in here?"

Shot back Martin: "I used my Elks' card."

School Lunch Budget Should Not Be Cut

Many are commending Rep. A. S. J. Carnahan from Missouri for saying the appropriation for the school lunch program should be increased, not cut.

The Department of Agriculture is making many attempts to cut its budget and many of them are justified — particularly the issuance of numerous pamphlets on subjects that are now being well covered on the women's pages of the daily press. The school lunch deals with the health of the nation's children. It is well organized, planned and advised by some of the leading nutritionists in the country. It is an intelligent way of using up surplus commodities.

Some think Rep. Carnahan could even go a step further and recommend that the school lunch programs be adequately financed and the whole program placed in the Department of Welfare where it is said it rightfully belongs.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round--

Not Invited to White House Since '53

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Ex-President Harry Truman has never said anything about it, but the first time he came back to Washington after he retired two years ago he felt a little hurt that General Eisenhower didn't invite him to call at the White House.

He, himself, had invited Herbert Hoover to the White House as one of his first acts after becoming President. Hoover hadn't been back in Washington for years, had never been in the White House from the day he left on March 4, 1933. So Truman asked him to call.

"I want you to know," Truman told him, "that any time you are in Washington this is your home. I'll feel hurt if you don't come by."

On top of this, Truman appointed Hoover to make a food survey of Europe and also made him a co-chairman with Dean Acheson of a committee to reorganize the government, a committee which he heads today.

Hoover, extremely grateful for this recognition, paid glowing tribute to Truman at a Gridiron Club dinner. Later, in the 1952 campaign, Hoover refused to criticize the Truman administration, although urged to do so by GOP strategists.

Truman, however, has never been invited to the White House since he left, and though now back in town, he doesn't expect to be invited today.

Ambassador Truman?

Here's a suggestion President Eisenhower might want to consider. It's made only because he's badly in need of bipartisan support for his foreign policy at home and in even worse need for friendly support from our allies in Europe.

The suggestion is: Send Harry Truman to the capitals of western Europe on a good will tour.

Send him with Ike's personal blessing but as an unofficial envoy just to visit some of the places he knew as an artillery captain during World War I.

Truman is extremely popular in Europe. To Europeans he is the little man who put across the Marshall plan, helped build up Europe after the war, is a symbol of European-American cooperation.

If he went very simply, as a tourist, to the Vosges Mountains in eastern France to look over the place where he commanded Battery D of the field artillery, he would be a symbol of unity and friendship at a time when western unity needs those reminders. They need a reminder not only of past ties with the United States, but they need reminders that unity between France and Germany is all-important.

Harry Truman could be a traveling salesman of American good will as no other man in the United States today.

A-Bombs to Orient

It should come as no surprise after Eisenhower's and Dulles' public statements regarding the use of A-bombs that live atomic bombs have now been shipped to the Far East in case the Quemo-Matsu crisis explodes into war. They are described as small, tactical bombs that could be used to break up troop concentrations on the Chinese mainland. This is the second time since World War II that Uncle Sam has held the atomic bomb up his sleeve. The first occasion, never before disclosed, took place during the black days of our Korean retreat.

General MacArthur cabled frantically that his troops were being driven into the sea and asked whether he should evacuate or fight to the death. He offered to join his troops on the battlefield and go down fighting with them.

Alarmed, President Truman ordered atomic bombs flown to a secret carrier off the Korean coast. If the situation became desperate enough, Truman intended to use the A-bombs to stop the Red onslaught and save our troops.

During all the time that A-bombs were abroad, the ship radioed her location every half hour. The operation was kept so secret, however, that the British government never knew of Truman's emergency plan.

Now, once again, atomic bombs are ready for action off the Chinese coast — if they are needed.

NOTE — A leading Soviet atomic scientist, accompanied by two lesser scientists, arrived in Red China on April 3 to consult with Chinese Communist leaders, presumably on the use of atomic weapons.

Merry-Go-Round

Ex-President Herbert Hoover, one of the wealthiest men ever to be elected President, has written a defiant letter to the Social Security Administration, saying he won't carry a social security card. Since Hoover is now working for Uncle Sam, he comes under social security, but he's written an emphatic letter that he doesn't want to be listed on the social security rolls. . . . At dawn and dusk on Formosa Chinese Nationalists now sing their national anthem, followed by a stirring patriotic song called "Back to the Mainland." . . .

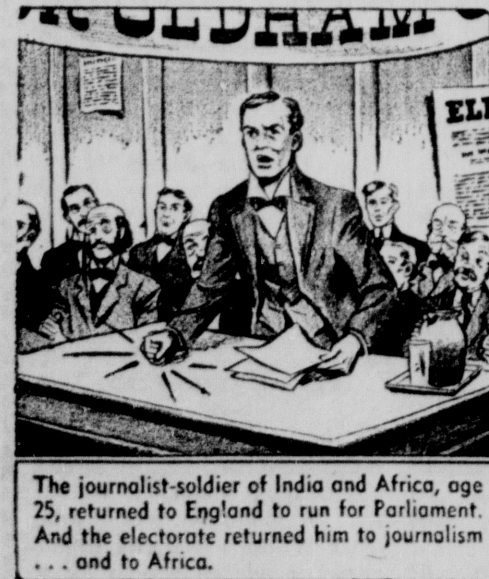

Lately, native Formosans have been joining in with gusto singing "Back to the Mainland." They are more anxious than Chiang Kai-shek for his people to return. . . . The Signal Corps has installed new, top-secret transmitting equipment in the Pentagon. Instead of ringing alarm bells, it flashes lights and operates all most soundlessly. . . . At the secret meeting on curbing Pentagon information, Secretary of Defense Wilson angrily ordered a crackdown on loose talk and a plugging of news leaks. One of his assistant secretaries piped up that Drew Pearson was getting too much information. (The censorship order must not be working, otherwise how did I learn about this?)

He Knew Bess

Not many high Republican officials today would boast of a friendship with the Harry Trumans. However, Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas not only claims them as friends, but says he once lived next door to Bess Truman.

Chatting with Florida's Sen. George Smathers at lunch, Thomas remarked: "I was born and raised in Independence, Missouri. I grew up right next door to Bess Truman, and she is a very fine lady."

CHURCHILL: A Man and an Era

The journalist-soldier of India and Africa, age 25, returned to England to run for Parliament. And the electorate returned him to journalism . . . and to Africa.

This time it was the Boer War. British against Dutch in South Africa. And the battle pushing deeper into the jungle where the Boers had the advantage.

CLEAR THESE TRACKS! UNCOUPLE THE ENGINE! EVERYBODY RETREAT! WE CAN MAKE IT!

I DON'T CARE IF YOUR NAME IS CHURCHILL. YOU ARE NOW A PRISONER OF THE BOER GOVERNMENT!

Corsi Departure Refocuses Attention On US Immigration

By Joseph A. Dear
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Edward Corsi's abrupt and huffy departure from the State Department has refocused attention on one of the hottest issues before Congress — Immigration policy.

At the request of Secretary of State Dulles, Corsi came here three months ago to speed up the admission of aliens under the Refugee Relief Act, which Congress passed in 1953. Now he's out of a job.

In parting, Corsi loosened a verbal barrage aimed at Secretary Dulles, State Department Security Chief Scott McLeod, and Rep. Francis Walter (D-Pa.). Walter, co-author of the 1952 Immigration and Nationality Act, had suggested that Corsi was a security risk because of alleged past associations with unidentified Communist front groups.

Corsi denied the charge. The bewildering exchange of recriminations by all involved, and the political implications — Corsi is a big gun in New York Republican circles — has somewhat clouded the basic issue. Behind it all is the argument on immigration policy.

In 1952 Congress revised and codified immigration laws over President Truman's veto. Leading sponsors of the revision were Rep. Walter, and the late Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.). The 1952 law has many critics, among them President Eisenhower. He has said the act contains provisions that "are inequitable in some instances and discriminatory in others."

The McCarran-Walter Act is a lengthy and complicated hunk of legislation. One of the most controversial features of the act concerns the quota system under which aliens are admitted.

The national origins quota system was written into immigration law by the 1924 Congress. Under this system, each nation's quota is proportional to the number of Americans in 1920 whose lineage could be traced back to the foreign nation in question. Thus by its nature this system favors some nations at the expense of others.

Under the system, five nations (Great Britain, Ireland, Germany, Poland, and Italy) get 77 per cent of the 154,657 yearly quota. Several nations, notably Britain and Ireland, don't come near filling their quotas. But under the 1924 law, and the 1952 revision, quotas are non-transferable. So Italy, for example, doesn't benefit by the unused portion of England's quota.

That feature of the law has attracted plenty of criticism. Proponents counter by arguing that the whole purpose of the quota system is to prevent immigration from altering the ethnic composition of the United States.

But supporters of the quota concept consented to its violations. It was recognized that there was a need for special legislation authorizing the admission of deserving aliens who were refugees from the communist terror in Europe.

That was how Congress came to pass the 1953 Refugee Relief Act, as a supplement to the McCarran-Walter bill. The 1953 act authorized the admission of 214,000 refugees over a three year period.

The quota system supporters in Congress, however, were careful to write into the refugee act many precautionary and restrictive provisions. So careful were they, in fact, that only 821 refugees were admitted under the act during the first year it was on the books.

A refugee, to be eligible for admission to the United States under the act, must be able to produce documentary evidence of his opposition to communism if he comes from an Iron Curtain country. That's an impossibility for most refugees who seek asylum in the West. The only hope for most is to establish their anti-communist records after they reach a refugee camp.

Each refugee must have a sponsor here in the United States. His sponsor must guarantee housing and a job. Since it takes months and months to clear away the red tape, that means a sponsor must be able to hold open job and housing for months and months. And that's not always easy.

It was Corsi's task to expedite the program. Whether he was successful in any respect remains to be seen. It has been suggested that only modification of the immigration law will accelerate admission of refugees. More than 60 bills have been introduced so far this year, but Congressional approval of any is considered unlikely.

DEATH OF A LEGEND

By WILL HENRY
Copyright 1954 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: After the Civil War, guerrillas such as Jesse James, were exempted from amnesty by the federal government and hunted down. Jesse's mother, Mrs. Zerelda Samuel, advises her son to give himself up.

THE cornered outlaws found no way to come in safely. Nor did the good Lord in His infinite wisdom, despite Zerelda Samuel's faith in that wisdom, send anyone to point that way. The candle had burned too long from both ends.

They were men with prices on their heads, prices of which the medium of instant exchange was: "Shoot on sight and bring the body in for identification afterward." It was not so simple, no mere matter of riding into the nearest Union command post and announcing, "All right, we give up. The game is over."

The day after Appomattox word of Grant's general amnesty swept the land. For 24 hours the hearts of Jesse's men took sudden hope. Then came the grim postscript. The pardons of Nashville and Appomattox were not for the known guerrilla followers of Quantrill, Todd or Anderson. In Missouri the exception was taken as a mandate to hunt down these sons of the South. Throughout the counties of Clay and Jackson guerrilla bodies swung in the spring wind from the gnarled limbs of 100 oaks and sycamores along the back roads. The farms and homes of the Confederacy's outlaw sympathizers were burned to their fieldstone bases. Vengeance was the sweeter for its long time in coming.

Jesse and his men took to the limestone caves along the Big and Little Blues, never sleeping two nights in the same lair, never making a fire against the evening sky, never passing abroad in daylight, never unsaddling a sweating horse on unbooting a weary, stirrup-swollen foot.

Shortly before midnight of the 13th, Jesse came upright upon his lathered horse blanket. He listened a moment, rose and padded silently around his sleeping fellows toward the cave's entrance. Outside, he cocked his head downward to the blackness of the Big Blue's bottomlands.

This time he heard it clearly. Its sound sent a prickle of nerve-ends running up his spine. Pursuing his thin lips, he answered it, his heart so strangely glad with him that its thickening hammer constricted his throat. He waited, swallowing hard, his trapped mind not daring to believe it could be him. The small hand which had not lost its steadiness in cutting throats on Shawnee Town Road nor in blowing brains out along the North Missouri's right-of-way beyond Centralia trembled uncertainly now as the low-pitched call of the bobwhite came again from the Big Blue's midnight bottomlands.

Seconds later that same small hand was enclosed in one twice its size, and for a fleeting, naked moment Jesse James was once more Dingus.

"Cole!" Jesse recognized the one man he could call a friend.

IN his lifetime, few men knew even the face of Jesse James. Cole Younger alone knew his heart. His long arm came quickly around the narrow shoulders, his words dropping in that slow, half-smiled way they always did. "Well, now, Dingus, a man dearly loves to be remembered by his friends."

Jesse broke away from the embrace awkwardly. The moment of meeting, together with whatever twisted meaning it may have had for him in its first unguarded seconds, was gone.

"Anybody with you? How'd you find us? Where you been? Where'd you come from?" The dry rattle of the questions at once re-established the old pattern of leader to follower.

"Well, now, Ding," grinned Cole, "I come from Alabama. But not with no banjo on my knee. I was mustered out in Montgomery, rode the cars three days, made it in afoot from Jeff City. I got the lay of the land and a horse from your ma. Now how about you and your boys?"

"We're done," said Jesse glumly. "I got Jim Cummins and four others with me, asleep in the cave yonder. We been trying to come in but the Feds won't leave us do it."

"Yeah, I heard," muttered Cole. "I allow you can go right along back!" snapped Jesse. "We ain't dragging you into this. You're clean, you was a regular. You got amnesty."

"I got some, I reckon," shrugged his companion. "There ain't nothing you can do for us."

"I got it set for you to come in, you fool. With Major Rogers, the Union provost marshal at Lexington. He's kinfolk way back somewhere on Pa's side."

JESSE looked at the sign over the door of the frame shack next to McClellan's harness works.

Headquarters Union Provost Marshal—Maj. J. B. Rogers, Fifth Corps Area.

He swung the black up to the hitching rail. Cole eased his dappled bay alongside him.

Instructing Oil Shepherd and Billy Gregg to watch the horses, Jesse came down off the black.

The crowd, pressing forward to cram and peer at the shade-drawn windows, moved uneasily back as the swaggering Oil loosened his big pistols in their leathery and spat calculatingly into the Main Street mud.

"Fine morning for a curious cat to get himself killed," he drawled to the unsmiling Gregg.

Billy Gregg nodded silently.

Presently the office door opened. Jesse came out, tailed by the others.

"All right," he said to Oil. "Let's go. We got what we came after."

Odds and Ends
By News Staff

Recently the prosecuting attorney answered the telephone and a little girl asked a question: "Is it against the law to play marbles for keeps?" she asked.

"No, it isn't," replied the prosecuting attorney.

It all happened when the little girl had come home with no marbles. She had lost them all to a boy when she played marbles for keeps. Then she got worried. She asked her dad if such a thing was against the law and he told her to call the prosecuting attorney, a friend of his, and ask him. He didn't know.

So the little girl took him at his word. She didn't know he was just teasing her.

But that evening the little girl was waiting for the prosecuting attorney to come home.

"Are you sure," she asked, "it isn't against the law to shoot marbles for keeps?"

"I'm sure," he told her.

"My grandmother said it was," insisted the little girl.

By this time the prosecuting attorney felt he was in the middle of a family argument but he stuck to his guns.

"Shooting marbles is a game of skill," he said, recalling his marble shooting as a little boy and knowing that the fellow who was really skilled at the game always had a pocket full of marbles.

"Anything that is a game of skill is not against the law," he explained. And the little girl was finally convinced that there was nothing unlawful about the little boy winning and keeping her marbles.—H. L.

Spanking Discouraged

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's public school teachers want to know whether they can spank unruly pupils. The independent Detroit Teachers Assn. joined the AFL Detroit Federation of Teachers in protesting "weak-kneed enforcement of the discipline policy."

School Supt. Arthur Dondineau, who was instructed by the school board to clarify the issue, said: "We have a definite policy . . . We have never prohibited corporal punishment, but we discourage it."

The World Today--

An Open Social Revolution

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Other revolutions may have been hatched in cellars but one of the biggest in American history—a social revolution—is being worked out in the Supreme Court.

There was nothing clandestine about this one: The nine justices made their decision — that racial segregation in public schools must end—in full view and in accordance with the Constitution.

Cartoons picture revolutionaries with long hair, unshaven faces, fanatical eyes. The nine dignified justices are the exact opposite: Neatly groomed and relaxed in their long black gowns. But they are not detached behind their bench.

So far their decision is merely that. Now they must decide how, and when, their ruling is to become a reality in every state which has had some form of separation between white and Negro schools.

There can be no doubt of the revolutionary effect of school integration on relations between the races in the South. White and Negro children, growing up in the same classrooms, are bound to have different attitudes from their ancestors.

There is no indication when the court will lay down the ground rules for ending two school systems. It has a triple problem and all it can hope for is that its answers are wise:

1. To find a way which will compel the states to end segregation.

2. To do it in a way which, while integration is being carried out, will keep conflicts between the races to a minimum.

3. To do it in a way which will preserve, for the benefit of the country, respect for the court and its authority through compliance by the states.

The justices are between two intense fires: The insistence of Negroes that segregation must be ended by no later than September 1956; and the plea of the states, which suggest no time limit at all, to take it easy.

The justices themselves know they are under the microscope of the nation. They may take a longer view than the Negroes' lawyers who want a single school system no later than the fall of 1956.

The court may give the South more time than that. But it cannot offer a solution which drags out desegregation too long without leaving itself open to severe criticism outside the South.

But this is not a one-way street. The Southern states themselves, knowing there is a limit to how much they can defy the court and constitutional processes without endangering the country, are under national observation, too.

The story of integration may be so far from being over that it is only really beginning. The reaction and compliance of the Southern states, and the people in them, still have to be revealed as integration is put in motion.

Ex-Sedalia Woman Slain By Stabbing

Dorothy Garrett, 50, a former Sedalia Negro woman, was fatally stabbed about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at her home in Marshall, 770 1/2 West East Arrow. She was dead upon arrival at the Fitzgibbon Hospital a few minutes after police had been called and found her in her home.

George Robinson, 38, a Marshall Negro of the same address, is being held by Sheriff Paul Piper in connection with the slaying.

According to Sheriff Piper the man and woman became engaged in a fight. The woman was stabbed in the breast and chest with a pocket knife, the man suffered a severe laceration on the left shoulder made by a butcher knife.

The man who was also taken to the hospital was placed under guard at the hospital and later removed to the county jail. Sheriff Piper reported the man had admitted the stabbing of the woman and reportedly said the woman had slashed him.

The Garrett woman formerly resided on St. Louis street here in Sedalia and was employed as a maid at the Bothwell Hotel about two years ago. She has an uncle residing here, Walker Murphy.

Insurance Men Meet From Central State; Bill Hopkins Speaks

Forty State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance agents, their supervisors, and state office personnel attended a special meeting at the Bothwell Hotel Thursday. The majority of this group represented the central Missouri district of State Farm.

Bill Hopkins, district manager for this area, was one of the principal speakers on the program, which generally concerned a new automobile insurance rating which will go into effect on May 16.

William P. Hurley and Charles W. Halbrook, Sedalia; J. M. Palmer, Green Ridge; James S. Rissler, Houstonia, and Charles J. Wheeler, LaMonte, State Farm agents in Pettis County, attended the meeting. One of the featured speakers was Frank Stonner, state director of the company, Jefferson City.

Wife Refuses to Join Hubby; Divorce OK'd

BOSTON (AP)—Stanislaw Dziskiewicz, a Polish refugee, was granted a divorce yesterday on the grounds his wife refused to leave Poland to join him here "even if you built me a marble palace."

Judge Robert G. Wilson noted that Mrs. Dziskiewicz was free to leave Poland. He commented that the letter she wrote her husband seemed to have propaganda in it.

One part of the letter read in court said: "I don't want your auto, your money or your house because it is easy to obtain these things."

Fires In The City

The fire companies at 10:33 a.m. were called to the residence of John Straw, 117 West Henry, where sparks from a burning flue had set fire to the roof. Slight damage resulted.

Accidents

Mrs. B. C. Grace, 71, of Denver, Mo., was painfully injured about 10:30 a.m. Friday in a fall down a basement stairway at Mattingly's Store, Second and Ohio.

Mrs. Grace was in Sedalia with her daughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. D. E. McNeely, Pilot Grove, and was in the store with her daughter shopping at the time. She had taken her grandson, Freddie, 4, to look at something and was at the head of the stairway when she suddenly fell from the first floor to the basement.

It was said she apparently was standing at the head of the stairway with her back to the stairs, stepped backwards and fell.

Mrs. Grace was rushed to the Woodland Hospital where her son-in-law was having X-ray pictures taken.

Dr. E. A. Enochs treated Mrs. Grace and took X-ray pictures which revealed she had suffered a fracture of the humerus, in the upper right arm near the shoulder and a fracture of the radius at the right wrist. She has a severe sprain of the right ankle.

She was taken to the hospital in the Ewing ambulance.

Correction

A man came in the other day and cautiously asked about the cost of a monument. He had the idea that many have: that a decent monument involves exorbitant costs. Nothing could be farther from the truth, as we proved to him, for instance, we have good granite markers as low as $25.00.

New Officers

Of Jaycees Are Installed

Jack Delph, new president of the Sedalia Junior Chamber of Commerce, and his fellow new officers were installed Thursday night by John F. Renick, president of the Missouri Jaycees, at a banquet held at the Pacific Room of the Pacific Cafe. Approximately 75 people were in attendance to witness the ceremony.

The other new officers installed are: first vice - president, Bob Ward; second vice - president, Carl Yates; secretary, Peter Potter; treasurer, Jim Askren; and directors, James Van Wagner, Jr., Richard Thomas and Bob Hare.

Guest speaker for the evening was Byron Banta, dean of men at Missouri Valley College, Marshall, and associate professor of American history. He related several stories about true incidents of the Civil War — some humorous, some serious and thoughtful. He paid tribute to the new officers of the Jaycees and invited the members to visit the college when they can.

Scott Webber was toastmaster of the evening's program, which was arranged by Van Wagner. Don Richardson gave the invocation, and after dinner Webber introduced the people at the head table — Mr. and Mrs. Hare, Renick, Mr. and Mrs. Delph, Mr. and Mrs. Banta, Mrs. Webber, Carl Yates and Mrs. Betty Baldwin.

Bob Hare, outgoing first vice-president and acting president, presented "Spark Plug" certificates of Jaycee accomplishment to Harold Barrick, Jack Delph, Tom Delph, Jim Durely, Jack Faber, Herald Foster, Jim Green, Verrell Martin, Peter Potter, Don Richardson, Bob Ruthrauff, Charles Wendt, James Van Wagner, Jr., and, in absentia, Gene Kent, now living in Excelsior Springs, and Mike Bogutski, former president, now living in Kansas City.

Hare also extended thanks for its work to the calling committee: Mrs. Lucille Ruthrauff, Mrs. Shirley Foster and Mrs. Loretta Hare. Larry Owen, accompanied by Judy Case on the piano, sang "With a Song in My Heart," and Tom Delph conducted group singing.

The installation of officers followed, with a response by the new president, and the guest speaker was introduced by Carl Yates.

Shows Move About Glass To Kiwanians

A colored moving picture depicting research into and results of modern glass manufacturing and how the industry developed was shown to Sedalia Kiwanians Thursday noon through courtesy of Karl Baumbler, works manager, Pittsburgh Corning Corp. The meeting was held in Hotel Bothwell.

The projector was operated by A. Brooke Wade.

Dick Van Dyne, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Mr. Baumbler commented on the development and cooperative corporation activities that have stimulated research into all phases of glass manufacture. He presented each member with a miniature glass block bank.

Invocation was by the Rev. Edw. R. Sims. Group singing was led by Russell Maag and William Ward who announced that Abe Rosenthal was a new grandfather. The club honored him with a special song, and Abe reciprocated by passing out cigars. Abe revealed that the 6½-pound grandson had been named Michael William Sherman after birth in St. Louis Maternity hospital. The mother was formerly Joan Rosenthal.

Harry Brunkhorst spoke on behalf of the National Railroads campaign for observance of perfect shipping in 1955.

Dr. J. Briggs Rice reminded members of the Pettis County Medical Society's Forum meeting Tuesday, April 19, at the Little Theater when the program will be "Dieting."

John Snodgrass, chairman of the vocational guidance committee, reported arrangements were completed for the vocational guidance Conference Career Day at Smith-Cotton High School April 20, sponsored by part-time students and the Kiwanis committee. Occupational talks will be given that day by business and professional men before related groups of the students. This will be the first Career Day observance since 1941.

Club guests were: Dan Wolf with his father-in-law, George H. Scruton; O. W. Brunkhorst, Denison, Tex., with his brother, Harry Brunkhorst; and Joe Allen with Sylvan Woolery.

President Jack Crawford reported that he and six other members of the local club attended the district meeting in Columbia: L. A. Pharris, George Chambers, M. D. Weathers, Pinkney Miller, Sylvan Woolery and Arthur Kiang. Woolery participated in the district meeting talking on support of churches; and Kiang gave a talk on the activities of underprivileged child committees. Fourteen clubs were represented.

Former Pastor Gives Sermon On Sunday For East Baptists

The Rev. G. C. Greenway, Lae, Mo., a former pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, will conduct morning and evening worship services there Sunday. The Rev. Erickson, Houstonia, will preach at the Broadway Baptist Mission in place of Tom Jackson, who is conducting a revival at LaMonte.

Regular services will also be held at the Boonville Mission, where the Rev. Henry Hansen, pastor, is holding a revival as part of the simultaneous revivals being held throughout the Southern Baptist Convention. Meetings are held during the week each evening at 7:30.

Announcements for the week are as follows: Monday, 6:30 p. m., Training Union visitation; 7:30 p. m., Intermediate G. A.'s meet with Mrs. E. E. Lingle, 2020 East Broadway; Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., prayer meeting; 8:30 p. m., choir practice; Thursday, 7:30 p. m., TEL class meeting; Friday, 7:30 p. m., Brotherhood executive committee meeting; Saturday, 9 a. m., R.A.S.

Helicopter New Job; Uranium Prospecting

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Bell Aircraft Corp. is pioneering its new utility helicopter as a multi-purpose uranium exploration vehicle through a subsidiary firm, officials have announced.

A standard model Bell helicopter is touring the southwest equipped with prospecting and mining devices. In the vehicle's equipment is a miniature drilling rig which can sink a test hole 300 feet in depth.

Recent tests have shown that cows which have free access to water give 2.8 to 4 per cent more milk than those watered twice a day.

Will Continue Evangelism At First Baptist

The evangelistic crusade which began last Sunday will continue through Sunday and the next week. Dr. David Garland, who is the guest speaker at the First Baptist Church, will use as his subjects, "God's Hurry" for the morning hour and "Feeding on Ashes" for the evening service. There will be special music at both services. For the morning service there will be an anthem entitled "Calvary" by Larry Owen and the choir, and for the evening service music will be rendered by a male quartet consisting of Donald Edde, Larry Owen, Aubrey Case and Ralph Hodges.

There were record congregations on Easter Sunday and there have been good congregations throughout the week. The congregational singing is under the direction of Educational Director Bill Thomas. With one exception, there have been additions to the church at each service.

Each evening this week special groups of people are expected to take the lead in furnishing good congregations. Monday evening will be emphasized as Women's Night, Tuesday evening as Men's Night, Wednesday evening as Sunday School Night, Thursday evening as Training Union Night, and Friday evening as Family and Guest Night.

On Thursday afternoon at 2:15 the Women's Missionary Society will have a program meeting at the church, featuring Dr. David Garland as speaker.

Metropolitan Opera Looks For New Home

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera Assn. has moved to get a more spacious and modern home.

The Met's board of directors yesterday approved a resolution to have a committee discuss with Mayor Robert F. Wagner the possibility of moving to a west side area between 60th and 69th streets.

This section may be redeveloped under slum clearance laws.

The Met's opera house, erected in 1883, is on Broadway between 39th and 40th streets.

The directors also voted to extend general manager Rudolf Bing's contract through the 1958-59 season.

checks, Minnesota's payment for the years of suffering it inflicted on an innocent man.

Hankins will accept it with gratitude, some disappointment and no bitterness.

"It's enough to live on," the 59-year-old Southerner said in a resonant drawl that carried no anger. "But I'm kind of disappointed that they couldn't have done more for me."

A bill providing Hankins with $300 a month the rest of his life has been passed by both houses of the Minnesota Legislature. When a number of other unrelated claims are settled by a conference committee, the bill goes to the governor. Hankins' payments would be retroactive to Jan. 1.

"I thank God that the legislature did as much for me as it did," Hankins said. "The only thing for me to do now is to put all of those terrible years behind me. I don't want to think of them."

"But I don't blame the people who sent me to prison. You forget all about that because it's so good to be a free man."

Hankins was pardoned in 1951. Barker-Karpis gang which held up the Third Northwestern Bank in Minneapolis and killed two policemen in 1932, had confessed Hankins had no part in the bank robbery.

Hankins, because shaky circumstances pointed to him, was convicted Feb. 6, 1933 and sentenced to life imprisonment.

In 1935 mobster Jesse Doyle, a member of the Barker gang, cleared Hankins of any connection with the crime. A long chain of hearings followed for Hankins. Several times he was promised his freedom.

Hankins won his release largely through the efforts of his sister, Mrs. Della Lowery, Jack MacKay, St. Paul correspondent for the Associated Press, and Sig Couch, a former Minneapolis detective. Mrs. Lowery was granted $10,000 by the legislators as partial recompense for money spent in gaining her brother's release.

Hankins within a few days will return to Dawson Springs, Ky., where he now helps his sister run a tourist park. He is writing a book about his experience, titled "19 Years—Not Guilty."

From it he hopes to make enough money "to help out needy kids."

Judge Makes Mistake Sentencing Marines

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two Marine Corps privates almost had 16½ years added to their prison terms yesterday because of a judge's slip of the tongue.

James Francis Bogle, 19, and William Luther Davis, 18, were sentenced by Criminal Court Judge Ben C. Willard after they pleaded guilty to grand larceny. Willard sentenced each to 18 years—then when spectators, attorneys and the two defendants gasped, caught his mistake and quickly changed the terms to 18 months.

Request Small For Ally Aid In Comparison

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The United States spent about 18 billion dollars to fight the Korean War. Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel estimated today.

The Army alone spent more than 16 billions, not including the pay of troops, Hensel commented in an address prepared for the World Affairs Council, and he added: "The war in Korea was a small war; for a long time we did not even regard it as a real war."

The last 5½ years, Hensel said, the United States has spent about 172 billion dollars on its own forces "and only about 11 billion dollars in the creation of military strengths among our allies." Member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe the same period spent about 35 billions of their own budgets, Hensel estimated.

He said President Eisenhower's "request for new military alliance appropriations in the coming fiscal year, $1,400,000,000, is modest — modest in the abstract, more modest when compared with the cost of even a small war." Then he added:

"As a matter of fact, it is more than probable that our appropriations for defense alliance expenditures will have to rise in the future."

He explained that one factor involved in this would be the upkeep of equipment sent Allied nations — a cost estimated at from one to two billion dollars annually. Some of the Allied nations have neither the industrial base nor the potential to permit maintenance of the American-loaned equipment, Hensel said.

'Stewardship of Time' Is Subject of Hobbs

Dr. Elmer L. Hobbs, pastor of First Methodist Church, will bring a message on "The Stewardship of Time" next Sunday morning at the worship hour. The Chancel Choir will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp and the Chapel Choir will sing "God's Flowers" by Keating. The Methodist Youth Fellowship meets on Sunday evenings. D'Anne Brogher and Nancy Garst are program leaders for this month.

Kentucky to Wait For Indiana Justice Against Leslie Irvin

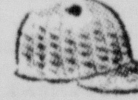

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—Murder warrants charging Leslie Irvin, 30, with the slayings of three Kentucky residents have been signed by Henderson County Sheriff Lee Williams.

Irvin, being held across the Ohio River at Evansville, Ind., has admitted killing six persons in this area, according to authorities.

Sheriff Williams said last night no effort will be made immediately to have Irvin extradited to Kentucky. Instead the murder warrants will stand and Irvin will be brought to trial if released by Indiana authorities.

Irvin was held to the grand jury at Evansville yesterday without bond. He waived examining trial in the only one of the three Indiana killings with which he has been formally charged.

Lutherans Back Corsi On Refugee Handling

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The board of social welfare of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod yesterday wrote Secretary of State Dulles that it was concerned over the dismissal of Edward Corsi as State Department advisor on refugee problems.

The board, which has been active in resettling refugees in the United States, told the secretary that Corsi has "in our opinion done much to speed up the complicated process of resettling refugees in our country. We sincerely hope that his dismissal was for reasons other than those voiced in the press and that his removal does not imply a lack of interest on the part of the administration for this project."

Church Has Dedication Ceremonies

Dedication ceremonies will be held for the Immanuel Church Service Building this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. after a service of praise at 10:35 a.m.

Pastor Armin F. Klemme says, "This day, April 17, 1955, is certainly a memorable one in the history of Immanuel Church. The dreams that have been envisioned for some time have finally materialized. Planning, work and sacrifice have followed those dreams to make this day possible."

"The Immanuel Church Service Building was built for the purpose of Christian Education and Fellowship. In addition to worship, these are two important functions of the church."

The building and repair fund was begun in January, 1942, when the Rev. O. J. Rumpf was pastor. Throughout the decade the fund increased. . . . Arthur Schwartz, architect, began preliminary plans in the summer of 1953 which were approved in January, 1954.

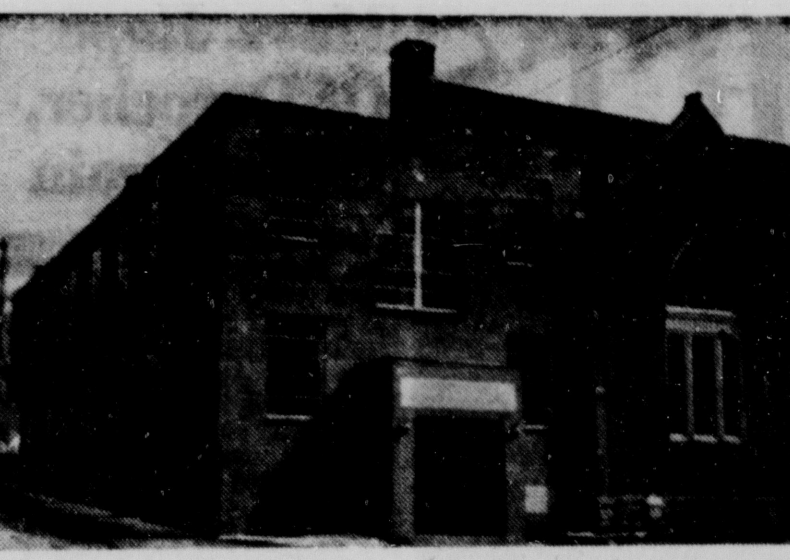

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held May 30 and excavation began several days later. The cornerstone was set in the wall in December with a former pastor, the Rev. Henry Vieth as guest speaker. Total cost of the addition was $77,500.

Included in the service of dedication will be the hymns, "Christ Is Made the Sure Foundation," "O Thou, Whose Hand Hath Brought Us," and "We Would Be Building: Temples Still Undone."

Pastor Klemme will speak on "Christian Education in the Life of the Church." Church President R. R. Ramlow will give words of welcome. The architect will present the keys to the pastor. This will be followed by a responsive prayer of dedication.

Mrs. Lillian Fox and Mrs. Ed Ringer will play an organ-piano duet.

Between the morning service and the dedication ceremonies, the congregation will look over the first and second floors of the new building.

Dedication services for the new Service Building of the Immanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

The building was started last fall and is expected to be completed within a few days.

Boonville Church Will Dedicate New Education Building

The new $90,000 religious education building of the Evangelical and Reformed Church in Boonville will be dedicated April 24. G. F. Bolter, president of the church board, said today.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. E. F. Abele, formerly was pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Sedalia.

The building will be dedicated at the 10 a.m. service. There will be an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. that day.

The building was started last fall and is expected to be completed within a few days.

A program for the dedication will be announced later.

The brick building is just south of the church on Seventh Street.

ing from 11:45 to 12:15. During the next hour a potluck dinner for everyone will be served in the basement.

From 1:15 to 2:15, the congregation will view pictures of the construction progress on the first floor and anniversary slides will be shown on the second floor. From 2:15 to 2:30 there will be an organ directed worship in the sanctuary.

Revival Services Begin On Sunday At Otterville

Revival Services will begin at the Otterville Baptist Church Sunday with the Rev. Fred H. Farris, pastor of the Park Baptist Church in Brookfield as guest speaker. He is the father of the resident pastor at the Otterville church, the Rev. Frederick S. Farris who will be music director for the revival.

The services will begin Sunday April 17 and last through Sunday April 24 with all meetings at 8 p.m.

Both father and son are former Sedalia residents with the younger Farris a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School, Southwest Baptist College and Central Seminary, in Kansas City.

The father was formerly a chaplain in the Army stationed at the Sedalia C.C.C. Camp.

Cottage prayer meetings are being held each evening this week. On Monday the meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wallenbur; Tuesday, R. A. Shoe house; Wednesday, Glen Fisher home; Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Armstrong; and on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore.

Presbyterians Host Spring Church School

Next Tuesday, April 19, the Broadway Presbyterian Church will be host to an area Church School and Vacation Church school Conference. This is a training session for church school workers, vacation church school workers, members of religious education committees, parents, ministers, and superintendents—in other words, everyone concerned with the spiritual growth of children, and junior high youth.

The Conference which is open to everyone is sponsored through the Missouri Council of Churches by a number of denominations including Methodist, Presbyterian, Evangelical and Reformed, Episcopal, African M. E., Disciples of Christ, United Lutheran, Reorganized Latter Day Saints, Church of God, and Evangelical United Brethren.

Leading the Conference will be a team of experienced workers with children and youth. The leader of the team is the Reverend C. W. Schowengerdt, Kansas City, who is the executive secretary of Religious Education for the Methodist Southwest Conference. Other team members include Mrs. Karl Bour, Kansas City, who is director of children's work for the Evangelical and Reformed Synod; Mrs. J. Sipes, Greenfield, who is district chairman of children's work for the Methodist church; and the Reverend John Nienstedt, of Jamestown who is a minister in the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

There will be Know-How Workshops for each age level from kindergarten through junior high. In these sessions the leaders will discuss preparation of church school units, sessions, and activities. Special emphasis is being placed on learning through music.

The conference begins with registration from 9 to 9:30 a.m. and closes at 4 p.m. A nursery is being provided for mothers who wish to bring their pre-school children. The local chairman is Miss Kay Noyes, Director of Religious Education of the First Christian Church.

Calvary Baptists Add Six Members During Revival Meetings

Six members have been added to the Calvary Baptist Church during the revival meetings being held there and there have been many rededications.

The Rev. J. Howard Clayman, pastor of the Washington Avenue Baptist Church, Evansville, Ind., is the evangelist. His tentative subjects for the rest of the week are: Friday, "Super Time"; Saturday, "Walking Over Hell"; and Sunday, morning, "Three Deadly Sins" and evening, "When the Floodgates of God's Wrath Are Lifted."

Rev. Neal to Speak On 'Mile Beyond'

The Broadway Presbyterian Church will hear the Rev. D. Warren Neal speak on "The Mile Beyond" at the worship service Sunday.

Dr. Reifel to Speak On Emmaus Episode

Dr. Leonard Reifel will speak on "The Emmaus Experience," in his address Sunday morning at the First Congregational-Central Presbyterian Church worship service.

Sunday School Lesson Notes

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
This column was originally devoted to the International Sunday School Lessons, and the comment, though always independent and reflecting the writer's own observations, was usually confined to a particular lesson.

For some years now the comment has been of a more general nature, designed to assist Bible readers in a general appreciation of the Bible, to help them toward understanding its teachings, and especially to application of its teachings to life today.

It is understandable why one should devote much time and thought to the New Testament, to the story of Jesus of Nazareth, to His teachings, to the Gospel of the grace of God—to all that is comprised in the Christianity that came out of the New Testament in its records concerning Christ and the Church.

But why should one devote much study to the history of dead kings, who fought for power, who ruled over a comparatively small nation; a country only about the size of a smaller American state, set in the midst of great and powerful ancient empires?

Why, in short, should one devote much study to the history of ancient times, in its Old Testament of much more than the history of wars and kings. It is the Old Testament of the Ten Commandments, of the vision and inspiration of saints and prophets, of precepts of truth and righteousness, of Psalms in all their variety of human experience and aspiration. It was the Bible of Jesus and His disciples; of which, one Saint Paul, wrote: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness" (II Timothy 3:16).

But what of the Book of Kings and of Chronicles, with pages that are red with blood and violence, with kings misgoverning their people and leading them in the downward path?

The prophets live, but what about the kings? Yet it is precisely because those Books of Kings and of Chronicles are what they are that they have been studied, and should be studied, in every age. Here are concentrated examples of instruction and warning, the story of heroism and courage, and faith, achieving triumph and prosperity. But there also is found a record of how failure and disaster comes upon a nation and people when there is moral and spiritual decay, and a people's betrayal of themselves and their God.

The period of Israel's history under its kings corresponds roughly to the period of history in America since Columbus' discovery. Here in concentrated form is the story of what can happen within a few hundred years, if dissension and division are allowed to develop, if personal and social wrongs go uncorrected, if rulers and peoples betray their trust.

If we would read these Books aright, they ought to be read, not just as ancient documents, but in relation to the life of today.

Do we listen to moral and spiritual guides and prophets with more wisdom than those despised prophets of old? A host of questions and problems arise for those who would read the history of Israel in the light of today.

Duke Snider's Wonder Catch Sensational

NEW YORK (AP)—Is Duke Snider as good an outfielder as Willie Mays?

The Snider forces got in their licks yesterday after the Brooklyn center fielder made a sensational tumbling catch of Monte Irvin's long drive in the ninth inning of the Dodger - New York Giant game.

Mays' great catch on Vic Wertz in the opening game of the 1954 World Series will be remembered longer, but many who saw both plays will rate Snider's backhanded grab as tops.

"I never thought I'd get it until the ball hit my glove," said Snider in the clubhouse. "I don't think it would have gone in the bleachers but it would have hit the top of the bleacher wall."

There is no distance marker at the point where Snider caught Irvin's drive in front of the bleachers in left center but it certainly travelled off of 450 feet. As Irvin was leading off the last of the ninth with Brooklyn on top 10-8, the catch may have saved the game. It would have been a sure triple.

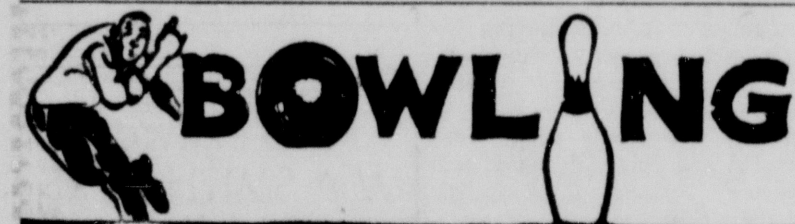

Snider raced to the edge of the grass, backhanded the ball and then tumbled on the running path in front of the wall. He came up with his hand in the air, clutching the ball while the umpire signalled the out.

Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants refused to compare Snider's catch with Mays'. All he would say was it was a "helluva catch."

East Sedalia Baptist Softball Team Practice At Center Saturday

The East Sedalia Baptist Church softball team will hold its first practice at 5:30 p. m. Saturday on the Center Park diamond, 15th and Center. The team is playing independent softball this year and hopes to schedule games with all the teams in the Industrial league if possible.

The team is being managed by John Smethers with Clyde Waters as business manager and is sponsored by the Brotherhood of the church.

The Little League Practice Starts 5:15 P. M. Today

The Little Leaguers will begin tryouts at 5:15 o'clock today on the Little League Stadium diamond. Tryouts will be continued each evening next week starting Monday and continuing through Friday at 5:15 p. m.

The eight and nine year olds will tryout this evening. They will hold the second tryouts for this division on Wednesday.

Ten year olds will tryout on Monday and again on Thursday. On Tuesday the 11 and 12 year olds will tryout their first time and the second go round will be on Friday.

Starting at 7:30 p. m. at the REA Office, Fifth and Osage, the annual auction will be started on Monday night, April 25. At this time all team managers will bid on the respective players desired for his team.

Boys who have not been given a physical examination must get a letter from the family physician as to physical condition and turn it in before or during the night of practice.

Tackle Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns has been a high scorer in the National Football league for nine years yet has tallied only one touchdown. His scores have come on field goals and points after touchdown.

The Michigan conservation department will release more than two million trout in the state's lakes and streams this season.

Cubs Leading League After Three Wins; Hack Is Happy

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If Stan Hack, the smiling man who manages the Chicago Cubs, could figure a way to make his guys full-fledged campaigners instead of first-week wonders he might be cracking that April grin come September.

The Cubs haven't challenged since 1946, but they're leading the league today, unbeaten in three games and banging out base hits by the dozen. It's a springtime madness Hack seems to instill in his lads.

Hack took over just before the 1954 opener, replacing Phil Cavar-

Olla Beaten Into TKO Loss By Sugar Ray

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, once one of the most feared fighters in the ring, won his fourth comeback fight last night by hammering Ted Olla into a third round TKO defeat.

It was the third—and most impressive—victory against one loss for the former welter and middleweight champion since he came out of retirement in October.

"But I'm not ready for (Bobo) Olson yet," Robinson said. "I'm happy at my progress but I'm just beginning to find myself. I'm not at a point yet where I'd want to or could fight Olson."

"I want two fights a month until September," said Robinson while happy followers addressed him as "champ."

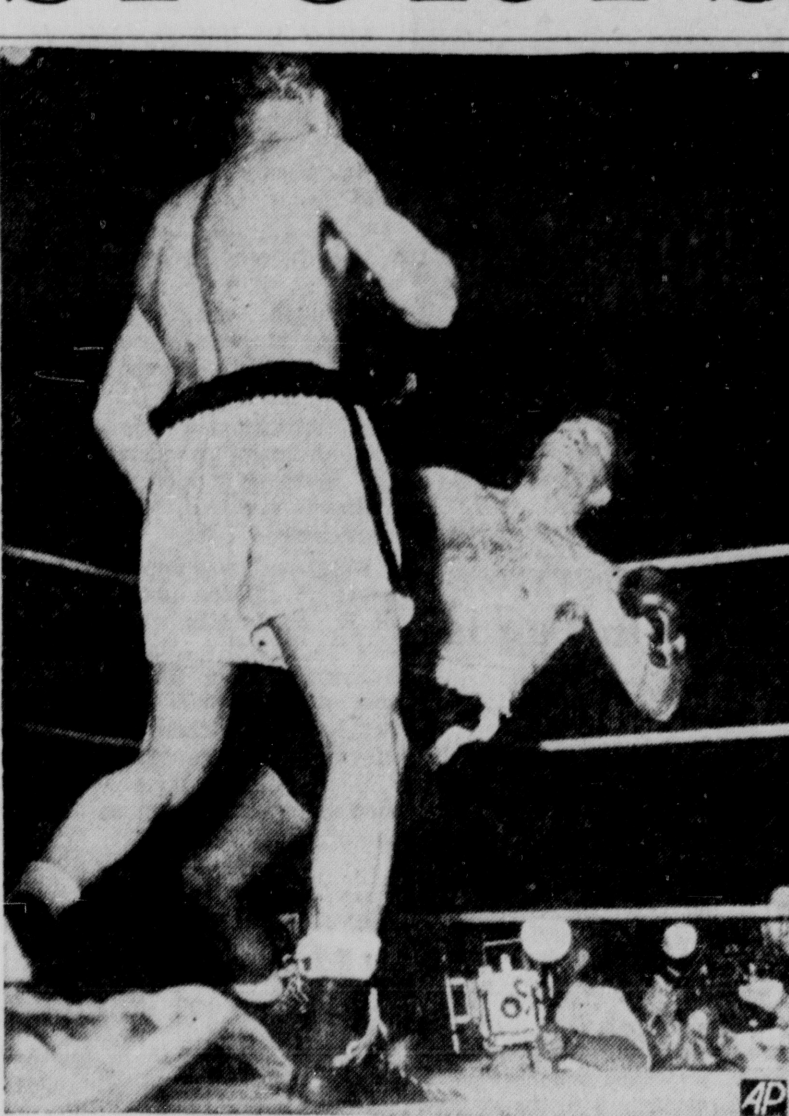

"If I'm lucky enough to keep on winning, then I want a chance to get back the middleweight title."

Sugar Ray, 163, did little dancing the first two rounds against the rough young Olla, 10 years Robinson's junior at 24. Olla put in a few roundhouse smacks and twice in the second round they stood and pounded away.

Robinson stepped out for the third round and rammed a right to Olla's head which was the beginning of the end for the 164-pound Milwaukeean.

A left finally floored Olla. He was up at four, took the mandatory eighth count and the beating commenced again. The fight was stopped at 2:15 of the round.

MAXIM GOING DOWN—Joey Maxim heads for the canvas in ninth round at San Francisco Cow Palace, reeling from blows of middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson. Olson floored the former light heavyweight champ with an overhand right to the head and a left to the jaw. Note glazed look in Maxim's eyes. Olson won a unanimous decision. (AP Wirephoto).

Sports Roundup—

Olson's Pounding Punches Make Bobo Major Contender

NEW YORK (AP)—The most exciting fight event in some time, witnessed by a national television audience the other night, was the unveiling of middleweight champion Bobo Olson's new right-hand punch, which previously had been a well-kept military secret.

In scoring two clean knockdowns of the rugged veteran Joey Maxim with shots to the jaw, the Hawaiian-born titleholder did something which scores of bigger men have failed to do over the years. Probably no one was more surprised than Maxim, who previously had hit the deck only four times in more than 100 bouts.

At 169 pounds, nine above the legal limit for his division, Olson was a most impressive fighter. He resembled almost not at all the willing mauler who came out of the west and, largely through his almost unbelievable stamina, wore down and defeated every rival for the middleweight crown over the last several years.

No matter how Archie Moore, the 175-pound champion, makes out in his bout with heavyweight Nino Valdes in their nontitle go at Las Vegas May 2, an outdoor attraction between the clever Negro and Olson in one of the local ball parks this summer would give each of them a fine payday.

With the emergency of Olson as a potential knockout artist, Moore scarcely can sustain his claim that there is no 175-pounder worth his attention.

Card's Frank Smith Loses Memory, Makes Boo-Boo

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Relief Hurler Frank Smith isn't a race horse, but he was left at the post yesterday—he didn't run when he was supposed to.

It was similar to the famous boner by Fred Merkle of the 1908 New York Giants.

Smith's 10th inning lapse of memory forced the St. Louis Cardinals to produce a second "winning" run against the Milwaukee Braves. Bill Virdon did the trick with an 11th inning homer, giving Smith and the Redbirds an 8-7 victory.

Here's what happened: Bob Stephenson forced Bill Sarni at second for the second St. Louis out. Smith sent an easy grounder to Dave Jolly, Milwaukee pitcher, but Jolly threw wide, Stephenson going around to third.

Wally Moon singled sharply down the right field line and Stephenson scored the first "winning" run. But Smith stopped after going a few feet, then turned back to first.

An alert Hank Aaron in right field fired the ball to Danny O'Connell, forcing Smith and nullifying the run.

"I've played baseball 10 years and have never pulled a stunt like that—I hope it never happens again," said Smith.

"I knew it was a hit, it went right by me. I started down to second, then thought the game was over. All at once it came to me like a bolt. I had to get down to second, but it was too late."

Merkle was on first, as Smith

Mays, Hope Of Durocher, Under Strain

NEW YORK (AP)—The ever-growing, punishing pressure on Willie Mays makes this the toughest of all years for the New York Giants' brilliant center fielder.

So says Jackie Robinson, the Dodger star, who as the first Negro to play in the majors, had to surmount the greatest pressure ever heaped upon a baseball player.

Long after Brooklyn had outlasted the Giants 10-8 in a wild slugfest at the Polo Grounds yesterday, Jackie remained in the clubhouse relaxing.

"I'll tell you what was the most significant thing about our victory," he said suddenly. "It was our ability to stop Willie Mays."

"You know something, I don't envy Willie. Everybody is expecting him to duplicate or better his great season of 1954. They won't settle for anything less. Look what happened out there today. Every time he came to bat, the fans started yelling for a home run."

"I think he is already showing signs of pressure. I could detect it from the way he was swinging today. He was going after too many bad balls."

"He didn't worry us at all today. We figured on getting him out. We didn't feel that way about him last year. Every time he came to bat last year we kept our fingers crossed. Somehow or other, we figured he'd hurt us and how he murdered us."

"Another thing that's not going to help Willie is the preferred treatment he's been getting from Leo Durocher. That can cause resentment on the club."

"Don't get me wrong. I think Willie is a great player. I think he's going to become one of the greatest of all time. Next year, when I'll probably be on the sidelines, I'll be rooting for him to hit .400. But this year I wish him nothing good because he's Durocher's key man. The Giants can't win unless Willie has another great year."

Butler Foresees Democratic Win In Spite of Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats assembled for a two-day rally heard from National Chairman Paul M. Butler today that prospects for a Democratic victory in 1956 "are bright regardless of who is heading the Republican ticket."

In a report prepared for a meeting of the party's national committee, Butler said Democratic hopes are high despite what he called "efforts of the high-priced Republican propaganda experts to persuade the press and public" that President Eisenhower is unbeatable.

Butler said there is a "definite Democratic trend running right now," and added the Republican administration is "setting the same old pattern—service to the few—which has brought the Republican party to so many national defeats in the past few years."

"You do not have to look far to see that the issues which brought defeat to Thomas E. Dewey and victory to Harry S. Truman in 1948 are going to be very much in the public eye during the 1956 campaign," he said.

The party meeting was called to discuss 1956 campaign plans and proposals for a 1956 national convention devoid of any party-splitting "loyalty oaths" over which Northern and Southern delegations fought in the 1952 convention.

Red Wings Nab Title, World Hockey Race

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings reigned today as supreme rulers of the hockey world for the second straight season—and all because Aled Delyvecchio didn't like living in the "doghouse."

The 23-year-old center from Fort William, Ont.,—demoted and slapped on the wrist in midseason—triggered two big goals last night to lead the Red Wings to a 3-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens for the Stanley Cup championship.

It was a brilliant victory for the Red Wings, coming on top of their seventh straight National Hockey League title.

Floyd Curry tallied the lone Montreal tally.

The victory gave the Red Wings possession of the Stanley Cup for the seventh time, tying the mark set by the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Players residing in nearby communities or within a radius of 25 miles to Sedalia are qualified to play on the team and they are requested to report for the workout.

All men interested in umpiring can contact Jack Mock, business manager. He can be contacted at 4465-W.

Celebrates Birthday At 104 Watching TV; Rooting For Pirates

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Freda Byerly is 104 years old today.

Last night, as usual she sat up to watch her favorite television programs and hear the latest sports programs which told of the results of her favorite baseball team, the Philadelphia Phillies. She sleeps daily until noon to catch up on her rest.

Mrs. Byerly says with tongue in cheek "no one should live to be 100—but it's fun!"

Tokyo Leaders Cagely Deny Vagrants Taxes

TOKYO (AP)—A spokesman explained why Tokyo officials denied a request by a group of citizens that they be taxed.

The plea came from vagrants in Ueno Park.

"They have nothing to tax, but if we formally levy a tax against them we officially recognize them as legal residents," he said.

"Then they become wards of the city and can demand welfare benefit payments."

Burma Bulges With Premiers For Big Talks

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Burma's capital bulged today with premiers here or in the offing. Indian Prime Minister Nehru and Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser were due by plane this afternoon from New Delhi to join Chou En-Lai of Communist Co 2 U Nu of Burma.

Tomorrow all four are scheduled to fly together to Bandung, Indonesia, for the Asian-African conference opening there Monday. Nehru and Nu are two of the five conference hosts.

Nehru and Nasser took off this morning from New Delhi, where since Tuesday they have been discussing what is likely to happen in Bandung and the positions their delegations will take there.

Chou arrived in Rangoon by Indian plane yesterday for similar preconference talks with the Burmese prime minister.

Nehru told reporters at the New Delhi airport that the 29-nation conference in Indonesia "represents the new spirit of Asia, which itself represents the spirit of the times."

"When anything is in tune with the times and historical processes, it is bound to triumph despite difficulties, and so success must come to us," he declared.

By success, Nehru explained, he did not mean success against any country but rather "the self-justification of Asia... helping the climate of peace and cooperation between the world and Asia."

"It means helping a little toward realizing the one world idea which must be achieved if the world is to survive," he added.

At a dinner in honor of Nasser last night, Nehru said he hopes the Bandung conference will produce a turn in world affairs "which reduces or tends to reduce the conflicts and hatreds of today."

U Nu and Chou in their talks yesterday were reported to have touched on conflicts between Red China and the United States as well as on the coming conference. Casting himself in the peacemaker role, the Burmese prime minister reportedly raised the Formosa question and Peiping's detention of American fliers.

Hundreds Get Money For Injuries Received In Falling Bleachers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Thirty-seven months of court hearings culminated yesterday in the awarding of $453,735.43 to 317 persons who were injured March 6, 1952, when bleachers collapsed during an ice show.

Much of the litigation dealt with who the defendants should be. The awards were jointly against the Sonja Henie Ice Revue, Inc., and Edwin T. Coronati and his New Jersey Coronati Amusement Co., the firm which erected the bleachers.

No damages were assessed against Miss Henie.

The biggest award, $30,000, went to Janet Harryman of Baltimore who said she suffered a broken back. The smallest was $10 for a minor injury.

Accidents

One auto was damaged in a two-car accident at the intersection of Tenth and Osage at 6:20 p. m. on Thursday. Patricia L. Klein, Smithton, was driving a 1950 Mercury south on Osage and Milton W. Kohl, 816 West Third, was turning south on Osage from Tenth in a 1952 Mercury when the mishap occurred.

Damage resulted to the left front fender and left front door of the Klein auto and only the bumper was scratched on Kohl's car.

Damage resulted to one automobile in a two-car collision at Tenth and Osage about 6:20 p. m. Thursday. Occupants of the vehicles were not injured.

Involved were a 1950 Mercury sedan driven by Patricia Lou Klein, Smithton, who was going south on Osage, and a 1952 Mercury sedan driven by Milton Wayne Kohl, 816 West Third.

The left front fender and left door on the Klein car were damaged and a bumper scratched on the Kohl automobile.

A dog, a horse and a car were a losing combination for Johnny Lawson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Lawson, Sweet Springs, last evening.

About 6 p. m. Johnny was riding his horse in front of the Robert Baker residence when the animal became frightened by a dog. The horse moved into the path of a car, throwing Johnny, who was knocked unconscious. It is not known whether or not he was struck by the car, but the horse suffered injuries from the collision.

Johnny was rushed to the Independence Hospital by a Parker ambulance, regaining consciousness on the way. He had several bad cuts on his face and a bruise on his cheek. The car damaged a fender.

Police Reports

Herbert Snyder, Okmulgee, Okla., driver of a Brashears Transport Co. truck, reported to the police he backed into a parking meter and broke it off. The damage was reported at $50 and Snyder informed the police he would report the incident to his insurance company.

Monty Schreck, 1420 East Ninth, reported to the police he had recovered his bicycle stolen from his home several days ago.

A report from the Sedalia Cleaners stated an old brown bicycle had been left behind that place of business sometime Thursday.

Police Court

Morris Potter, Liberty, Mo., charged with parking contrary to a legal sign in the 100 block on East Fourth, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Lloyd C. Phillips, 1710 West 11th, charged with parking in a safety zone in the 100 block on East Fifth forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Two youths arrested for exceeding the speed limit on East Tenth between Center to Emmett failed to appear in court and their cash bonds of $15 were ordered forfeited. They were Larry Paul Mines, 18, 1821 South Ohio, and Kenneth Leroy Hays, 18, 1511 South Osage.

Ernest Cummins, 1608 South Ohio, charged with parking in a loading zone in the 100 block on West Second, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Paul E. Baker, 314 North Summit, charged with speeding 45 miles per hour from 16th to Prospect on Grand, forfeited a $15 cash bond.

The case of A-3c Rudolfo Crespin, 20, Sedalia Air Force Base, charged with careless driving between Second and Lamine and Third on Lamine by turning around in the street, heading the car in between two parked cars, was continued to Saturday, April 16.

Five overtime parkers forfeited $1 cash bonds when they failed to appear in police court. Thirty-five overtime parkers who reported to police headquarters within an hour after receiving an overtime parking ticket paid the ten cent fee.

Erwin William Gant, White Spot Trailer Camp, charged with careless driving by going 55 miles per hour from 20th to the Country Club Addition entrance, was fined $25. He was granted a stay on the fine. Gant pleaded innocent of the charge.

Nasser Bends To Cure Ills Of His Egypt

By HAL BOYLE

CAIRO (AP)—It is one thing to run a revolution. It is quite another to build up a nation after you have won a revolution.

Lieut. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, the 37-year-old strong man of Egypt, spent 10 years plotting the army's overthrow of King Farouk. That was accomplished nearly three years ago. Nasser now seems quietly determined to devote the rest of his life to carrying out a reform program that will cure his backward country of its ancient ills.

He told of his hopes the other day in a rare interview granted to a group of visiting American newsmen. Coming into the ante-room of his headquarters, you had the feeling the revolution had just been pulled off a few moments before.

It was crowded with milling army officers and businessmen, all anxious to reach the leader's ear. Armed guards lounged by the windows, carefully scrutinized each visitor who entered.

Prime Minister Nasser, 6-feet 4 handsome, greeted the newsmen pleasantly, answered each question slowly and thoughtfully. He spoke in perfect English.

Nasser, who proved himself a master plotter in his seizure of power, spoke many times bitterly of "the landlords" whom he holds responsible for Egypt's poverty and past corruption. Millions of acres of land have been redistributed to peasants under his regime.

"No man now can control more than 300 acres," he said.

His problems range from providing fertilizer to small farmers to the building of giant irrigation and industrial projects. But Nasser emphasized the new regime's attack on illiteracy. Less than one out of four of Egypt's teeming 22 millions now can read or write.

"We plan to build 4,000 new schools in the next 10 years," he said. "Last year we completed 308, more than had ever been built in so short a time before."

He indicated he felt free elections were meaningless until the voters were educated enough to vote for their own best interests.

U. S. farm families use about the same percentage of their incomes in the purchase of food as do city families, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

Joan Crawford Gives Starlet Good Advice

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lucy Marlow, a brown-haired beauty who wants to be a movie star, has the best possible teacher—Joan Crawford. As a matter of fact, Lucy started out her film career as a make-believe movie star. She was the gushy actress who appeared at a premiere in early scenes of "A Star Is Born." Her brief performance made such an impression that she landed a contract at Columbia.

Now she is playing her biggest role thus far in "Queen Bee." She portrays a young girl who idolizes a Southern matron (Crawford). The picture shows Lucy's disillusionment as she discovers her idol is really a wicked woman.

Crawford, who has lasted longer than any star in Hollywood history, is naturally a starlet's ideal. When "Queen Bee" started, Lucy said to the star: "I'm new at this, and you know so much. I wish you would criticize me."

So Joan took Lucy under her wing. It's been quite an education.

"I've learned all kinds of things," the young actress remarked. "She knows everything about lighting. Miss Crawford—she says to call her Joan, but I still can't get used to it—can stand in a whole bunch of lights and know which one of them is not focused correctly."

Study Vaccine Dispensing

Seek Best Way Of Distributing Polio Preventive On Equal Basis

WASHINGTON, April 14—(AP)—The government called a top-level meeting of doctors, health officials and drug manufacturers tonight to search out the best way of distributing Salk polio vaccine on a fair-to-everybody basis.

Secretary of Welfare Hobby issued the call for an April 22 conference in Washington after President Eisenhower ordered a quick study of ways and means to make sure every section of the United States gets a fair share.

Plan To Carry Out The Directive

"The objectives of the whole conference," Mrs. Hobby said, "will be to carry out the President's directive to explore every possible means for assuring equal opportunity for immunization for all those who wish it as quickly as possible."

Mrs. Hobby said the Washington conference will consider, along with vaccine distribution plans, continued public information about the supply and distribution of the vaccine, and continuing close cooperation among the groups concerned.

Invite Health Officials

She said among those being invited are representatives of the American Medical Association and other medical groups, the Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and the pharmaceutical industry.

Dr. Chester S. Keefer, special assistant to the secretary for health and medical affairs, will serve as chairman.

Endorses Use Of 2 Injections

In New York, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis endorsed the use of two initial injections of the Salk vaccine rather than three—a step that would make existing supplies of the relatively scarce vaccine go farther.

The foundation said companies making the vaccine have agreed to supply enough of it to immunize some nine million children starting at once.

This would include all first and second graders in the United States and territories, and all other children who took part in the 1954 field trials but did not get vaccine.

Says Peace Pact Aimed To Block German Arms

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 14—(AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.), a visitor at President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters, said tonight Russia's dealings with Austria on a peace treaty are aimed at blocking rearmament of West Germany.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made the statement at a news conference in commenting on Moscow dispatches that Russia and Austria have agreed on "practically all questions" on a treaty to restore Austrian independence.

The senator met with newsmen after what he described as a "purely social visit" with Eisenhower. He emphasized his views on the Austrian treaty did not reflect any exchange he had with the President.

He also told reporters the President shortly will announce transfer of the functions of the Foreign Operations Administration to the State Department exclusively in the case of economic aid abroad, and to the State Department "in cooperation with the Defense Department" in the case of military aid.

Woman Pleads Guilty To Alleged Possessing, Transporting Narcotics

ST. LOUIS, April 14—(AP)—Mrs. George Jackson, 35, a New York City Negro, pleaded guilty today to possession and transportation of narcotics and was sentenced to two years in prison.

Mrs. Jackson was seized at Union Station here March 24 with Sylvester Johnson, also a Negro, upon their arrival from New York. Federal narcotics agents said they each had 10 ounces of heroin in their possession with a total retail value of about $25,000.

Mrs. Jackson told U. S. District Court Judge George H. Moore it was the first time she had carried the drug here and that Johnson had promised her "a substantial piece of money."

A New School Plan Put Before House—Senate Group Okays Schools 37½ Per Cent State's Revenue

JEFFERSON CITY, April 14—(AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee agreed today Missouri's public schools should have a 37½ per cent share of the state's general revenue.

Traditionally the schools have received state aid amounting to a third of the general revenue tax money. Currently that produces about $45 million a year.

But the House boosted that to 37½ per cent—a dollar increase of $5,677,000 a year. And the Senate committee left the figure unchanged as it approved the first three regular appropriation bills to come from the committee.

Calls For Boost In State Aid

Pending in the House is a Senate passed plan to set up a new "foundation program" for education and abandoning the flat percentage theory of allotting state aid. If approved by the Legislature and the voters it would give public schools about $67 million a year in state aid.

Altogether in bills allotting funds for the next two years to the State Department of Education and the Department of Revenue, the Senate committee lopped a total of $1,485,333 from the House figures.

But most of the trimming in general revenue items was in the form of small items. The biggest single cut, $1 million, was knocked off a highway fund amount for gasoline tax refunds, leaving it at $7,500,000.

Cut In Several Operating Funds

Small reductions of a few thousands dollars were made in several operating funds, averaging two to three percent, on the theory the departments no longer would have to pay individual electric light bills when all state buildings are converted from direct to alternating current.

Altogether the committee cut the Department of Education bill by $353,300, bringing the total to $112,686,130.

No Changes in $7,635,504 Bill

No changes were made in the bill setting aside $7,635,504 as a routine appropriation to pay interest on state school fund and semi-annual fund indebtedness.

House allotments for the State School for the Deaf at Fulton and the State School for the Blind at St. Louis also were left unchanged.

The Senate committee reported its action at a technical session of the Senate just before the start of a weekend recess. That puts the bills on the Senate calendar, ready for possible action next week.

Sen. John W. Noble (D) of Kennett, committee chairman, said he hoped the committee could finish work on other major bills next week.

Corsi Ouster Hearings Open Today

Subcommittee To Hear Arguments In Controversy

WASHINGTON, April 14—(AP)—Democrats sat back and watched Republicans argue today as a Senate subcommittee announced public hearings will open tomorrow in the controversy over Edward Corsi's ouster as State Department advisor on refugee problems.

Sen. Langer (R-ND), chairman of a Judiciary subcommittee investigating Corsi's charge of "scandalous failure" in carrying out the refugee program, said Secretary of State Dulles was invited to testify, "very likely next week."

To Call Witness From Capitol

He also said one witness will be called from the White House, but declined to identify him or specifically to say whether it might be Max Raab, President Eisenhower's adviser on the problems of minority groups.

Both have been interviewed at closed door sessions, Corsi today and McLeod yesterday. Langer said after today's session that the two were in "very sharp disagreement" as to how the special refugee relief act has worked.

Ousted After 90 Days On Job

Corsi, a prominent New York Republican and friend of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was ousted by Dulles last week after 90 days on the job.

After his dismissal Corsi said the program had been sabotaged by "an intolerant minority" within the State Department and Congress. Dulles has denied this, and so has McLeod.

New Enzyme May Be Clue To Cause Of Muscular Dystrophy

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 14—(AP)—A new enzyme which may be an important clue to what causes crippling muscular dystrophy has been uncovered in its laboratories here, the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation reported today.

Findings of Dr. Ranwell Caputo and his associates from the foundation and the University of Oklahoma Medical School will be read tomorrow to the American Society of Biochemists in San Francisco.

They have identified for the first time as yet unnamed enzyme which controls the transformation of creatine, a fuel for muscles, into creatinine, a waste product, according to Dr. Stewart Wolf, head of the foundation.

It has been known that in muscular dystrophy, where muscles lose their strength, creatine has not been converted into waste for some reason.

It is possible that dystrophy is due to a lack of this triggering enzyme, Wolf explained.

To Rebuild 3 Thousand Shelters In Germany

BONN, Germany, April 14—(AP)—Three thousand of the giant community shelters Germany had in World War II are to be rebuilt under a civil defense plan. The shelters are in cities considered prime targets in any future war.

Conclude Integration Hearings

Decision On How To End Segregation In Schools Left To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, April 14—(AP)—Argument over the momentous issue of how to abolish the color line in public schools were completed today in the Supreme Court.

Thurgood Marshall, attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, got in the last word. He urged the court to be as "forthright" in decreeing a time limit for ending segregation as it was last May in declaring that segregation violates the Constitution. Otherwise, he said there will be long delays before Negroes are admitted to non-segregated schools.

U. S. Solicitor General Simon E. Sobeloff called for a decree avoiding the extremes of "a fixed and inflexible limitation" and "no limitation at all" on time.

Urges 'Bonafide Progress'

He asked the court to order "bonafide progress" toward integrated schools without "riding over people rough shod" and without leaving segregation "hanging in the air."

Marshall and Sobeloff were the only lawyers heard today, the fourth day of arguments on how to follow up last May's decision.

Both took the position that the court in some way ought to make it clear that desegregation must apply to all the country, not just to the few individuals in the cases decided by the justices.

There was little new and little dramatic at the windup of the hearings, which produced three different contentions:

Argue For No Deadline

Southern states argued that the Supreme Court should fix no deadline for integration, lay down no specific orders for carrying it out, and leave details to the states and their school boards.

Attorneys for Negro parents urged the court to say that segregation must be ended by next September or, at the latest, by September, 1956.

The Eisenhower administration, through Sobeloff, proposed an approach with no fixed deadline but with insurance against any interminable delay.

Now it is up to the justices to determine which course to follow or whether to chart one of their own.

Sees Possible Defeat In Fight For Control Of Montgomery Ward

NEW YORK, April 14—(AP)—Financier Louis E. Wolfson today admitted the possibility of his defeat in the proxy fight for control of Montgomery Ward & Co. which will be settled at the April 22 annual meeting in Chicago.

It was the first time the 43-year-old challenger had conceded he might fail to overthrow the rule of Board Chairman Sewell Avery.

Wolfson gave newsmen what he called an honest appraisal of the chances, saying, "It could go either way."

He was aroused by a statement from Ward's president, Edmund A. Krider, that management already had enough proxies to retain control and that they are now concentrating on the main objective of denying Wolfson a single seat on the nine-man board.

HST Dinner Speaker Honoring Rayburn

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 14—(AP)—Former President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman left today by train for Washington.

Mr. Truman will speak Saturday night at a dinner honoring Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex.), speaker of the House. The Trumans plan to return home next Wednesday.

Nineteen Face Charges If Such Acts Continue--

Prosecutor Barrick Drops Boom on Youths In Sedalia for Their Serious Delinquency

"It is up to you and your parents," Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick told 19 juvenile boys ranging in age from 13 to 16 who had been picked up the past ten days for various crimes, from stealing a pair of socks up to stealing whiskey and automobiles. His remarks were in reference with "conditions" the boys must live up to the next six months.

The youths appeared in the Circuit Court room accompanied by one or both parents at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. The purpose of the gathering was to inform the boys and their parents of the delinquency of not only these 19, but others who have as yet to be contacted.

REPORTS ON MIRACLE VACCINE—Doctor Jonas E. Salk checks a point in the evaluation report on his miracle polio vaccine before answering a query during a press conference held in Ann Arbor, Mich., after results of initial inoculations were announced to the public. It later was predicted that 57 million Americans most susceptible to polio will receive shots of Doctor Salk's vaccine in record time.

Shoots Victims With Pistol—Construction Worker Admits Maniac-Type Killing Of Six

HENDERSON, Ky., April 14—(AP)—A husky construction worker, described as a likable fellow with a "disarming charm," has confessed the maniac-type killing of six persons, authorities said today.

Each victim was shot in the head with a pistol after his hands were bound behind him. Two were forced to kneel.

Ex-Sedalia Woman Slain By Stabbing

Dorothy Garrett, 50, a former Sedalia Negro woman, was fatally stabbed about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at her home in Marshall, 770½ West East Arrow. She was dead upon arrival at the Fitzgibbon hospital a few minutes after police had been called and found her in her home.

George Robinson, 38, a Marshall Negro of the same address, is being held by Sheriff Paul Piper in connection with the slaying.

According to Sheriff Piper the man and woman became engaged in a fight. The woman was stabbed in the breast and chest with a pocket knife, the man suffered a severe laceration on the left shoulder made by a butcher knife.

The man who was also taken to the hospital was placed under guard at the county jail. Sheriff Piper reported the man had admitted the stabbing of the woman and reportedly said the woman had slashed him.

The Garrett woman formerly resided on St. Louis street here in Sedalia and was employed as a maid at the Bothwell Hotel about two years ago. She has an uncle residing here, Walker Murphy.

Loretta Young Still In Serious Condition

OXNARD, Calif., April 14—(AP)—Actress Loretta Young has shown slight improvement but is still in serious condition from an attack of peritonitis.

She will remain at St. John's Hospital here for at least another 10 days, a spokesman said. Peritonitis is an inflammation of the membrane that lines the abdomen. Miss Young was brought here last week from her home at nearby Ojai.

Accord On Nearly All Questions In Treaty; Raab Says Austria, War Prisoners To Be Free Again

MOSCOW, April 14—(AP)—Russia and Austria have agreed on "practically all questions" on a treaty to restore Austria's independence, Austrian Ambassador Norbert Bischoff said tonight.

In Vienna, Austrian Premier Julius Raab's People's party disclosed he had telephoned from Moscow, saying:

"Austria will be free, and we will receive back our native soil in its entirety. Our war prisoners will be free again."

Negotiated For Three Days

Raab and his advisers have been negotiating here for three days for Soviet consent to an independence treaty that would end 10 years' occupation of little Austria by the Big Four powers.

Bischoff said members of the Russian and Austrian delegations still were working on remaining problems late tonight. He had this to say on specific points in the negotiations:

1. The question of guarantees demanded by Russia that Austria will never unite again with Germany would be settled by a request by Austria to the occupying powers to protect her against another such merger or Anschluss. The occupying powers are Russia, the United States, Britain and France.

To Have No Foreign Bases

2. Austria promised not to permit any foreign military bases on her territory.

3. Austrian participation in any military alliances was "not a point under discussion." Austria does not care to sign any military treaties. No agreement was made with the Russians which would prevent Austria from joining other international organizations, such as economic groups.

Needs Big 3 Approval

The United States, Britain, and France will have to agree to any

Grains Left With Losses Thursday On Trade Board

CHICAGO, April 14—(AP)—A little easiness at the finish left grains with losses on the Board of Trade today.

Until the last 30 minutes the market moved back and forth around previous closing prices, showing as many gains as losses. But the selling finally got the better of the prices even though it wasn't very heavy.

Wheat closed ¼ to ¾ cent lower, corn unchanged to ¾ cent lower, oats ¼ to 1½ cents lower, rye ¼ to ¾ cent lower and soybeans 1¼ to 2½ cents lower.

Only grain to show a definite trend throughout much of the day was oats. It was lower from the start.

At the outset corn was a little higher. Export houses bought following sale of 800,000 bushels of cash corn to Austria.

Suspend Teaching Of Roman Catholic Religion In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, April 14—(AP)—President Juan D. Peron's government announced today the "temporary" suspension of the teaching of Roman Catholic religion and morals in Argentine public schools.

The announcement from the Ministry of Education was the latest action in a 5-month controversy between Peron and Catholic authorities. Moves to clip the powers of the Catholic church already have touched the schools in other ways. The church's traditional right to appoint teachers of religious education has been canceled and priests serving in the schools have been discharged.

terms worked out in Moscow before the terms can become effective. Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl, who accompanied Raab, has kept the Western Big Three's envoys in Moscow fully informed on the Austrian-Soviet negotiations. Austrian reports quoted Bischoff as saying he was sure the Western powers would not oppose the new agreement.

Urges Boost, Extension Of Wages Plan

Administration Asks $1 Increase In Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON, April 14—(AP)—The Eisenhower administration asked Congress today to apply the minimum wage to 2,200,000 more workers and raise the minimum to 90 cents an hour from 75.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell resisted all efforts by Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), chairman of a Senate Labor subcommittee, to put him on record as personally favoring an increase to $1 or more.

Sympathy For Proposal

Strong sympathy has been expressed by Northern members of Congress for the $1 figure. Some senators of both political parties are supporting a $1.25 wage floor, the goal for which the AFL and CIO are fighting.

Hearings on the political issue started today and may continue before the Douglas subcommittee for three or four weeks.

Mitchell, choosing his words carefully, said it was the administration's "serious recommendation" that Congress consider extension of coverage to multistate retail establishments, such as chain grocery stores; to employees of chain hotels and motion picture theaters; and to some 150,000 employees engaged in wholly intrastate work but whose employers are principally in the interstate field.

No Reason For Opposition

"No sound reason appears why the act Fair Labor Standards Act should not apply throughout these businesses which are controlled on an interstate basis," Mitchell said. The present 75 cent minimum applies to 24 million workers, Mitchell said. A 15-cent boost would mean immediate higher pay checks for 1,300,000 workers now making less than 90 cents an hour. Mitchell said the cost of living since 1950, when the 75-cent floor was set, has increased 13 per cent. A new minimum of 90 cents, he testified, would more than compensate for that cost-of-living increase.

Propose Indictments In Election Frauds

ST. JOSEPH, April 14—(AP)—Twelve indictments have been proposed to the Sullivan County grand jury investigating election frauds, Attorney General John M. Dalton stated here today.

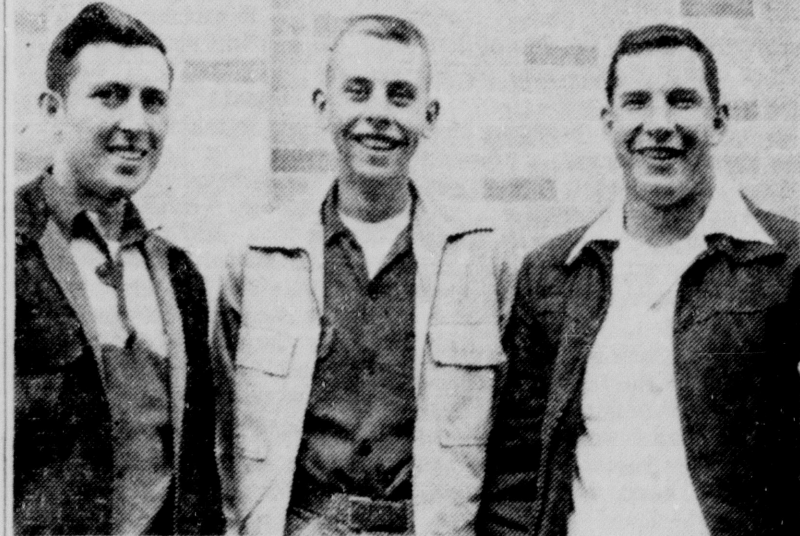

Dalton said two members of his staff were in Milan, Mo., today to confer with the investigating body. No action apparently has been taken by the jury on the proposed indictments. It is assumed the assistant attorneys general, Robert Welborn and Grover Huston, appeared to urge action on the proposed true bills.

Both Republicans and Democrats are among those his assistants recommended be charged in connection with the alleged frauds, Dalton asserted.

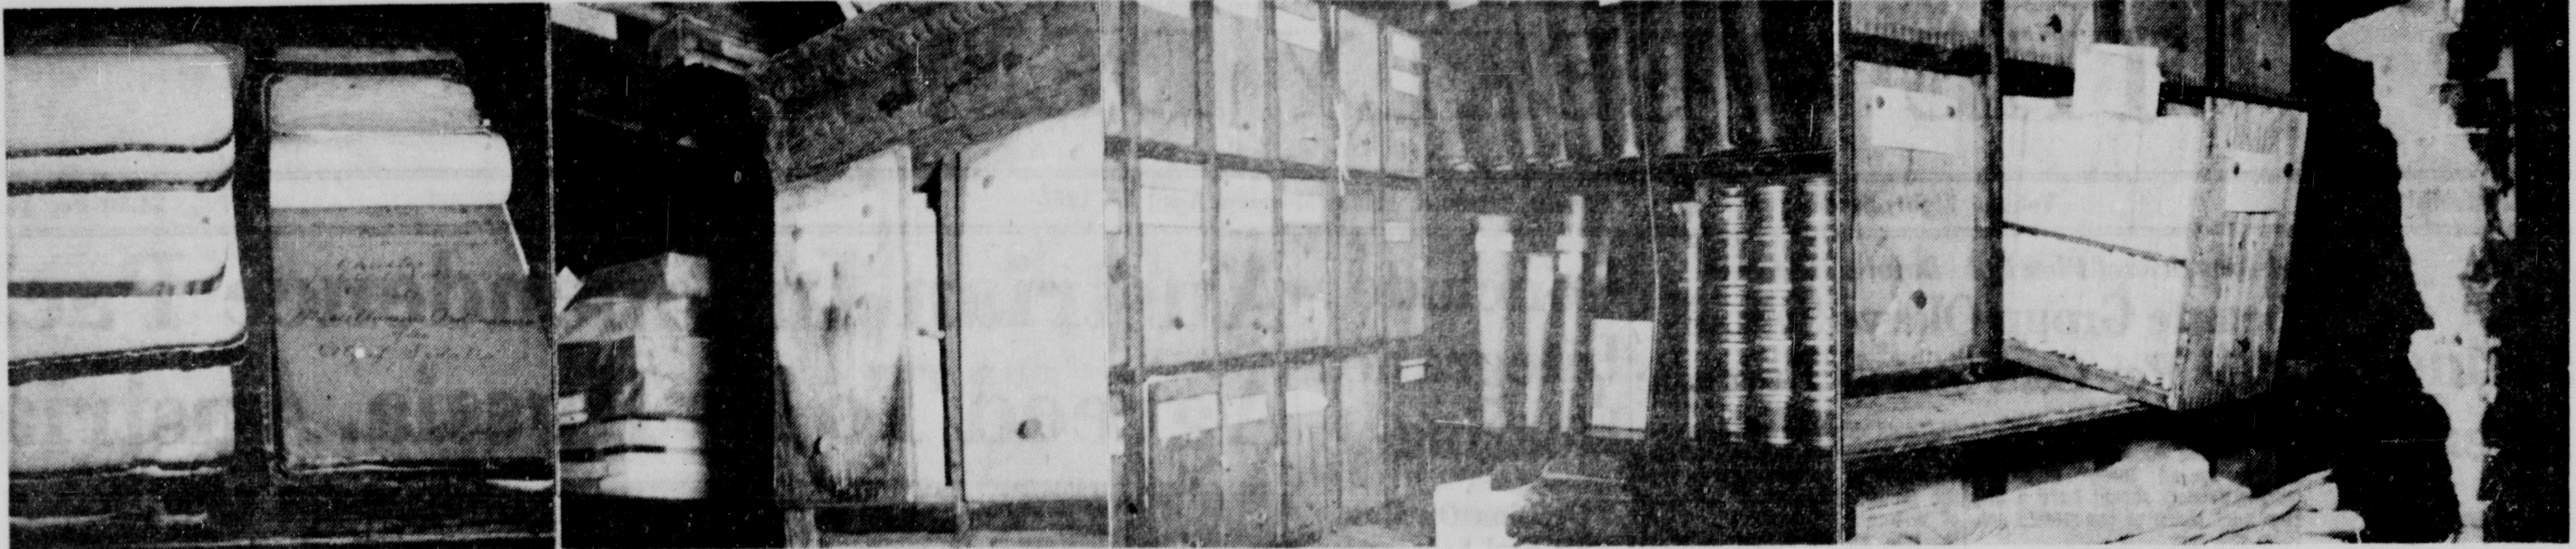

Drought Causes Little Damage To Vegetation

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Julian Steyermark, a botanist who has visited 35 Missouri counties, says three drought years in the state have had little permanent effect on vegetation.

"While admittedly some areas have suffered worse than others and show a greater number of dead trees," he said, "the overall picture of the forests and natural undergrowth is good." Steyermark, honorary research associate of the Missouri Botanical Garden, reported on his survey in the garden's current bulletin issued yesterday.

After their induction they will be sent to Camp Chaffee, Ark., for basic training.

THE SAD TRUTH—In the photograph at far left are copies of the revised ordinances of 1912. On the right of the picture are the complete files of the revision and on the left the index and pertinent information regarding the revision. In a fire that broke out in the vault in 1938 the books were badly charred and smoked and water soaked. The bindings are crumbling apart.

These books represent the city's last complete revision.

The photo second from left shows the condition of the files that house the city's ordinances. The drawer fronts, as well as the top of the cabinet, were badly burned in the 1938 fire. Since then the cabinet fronts have been scraped clean and tacks and screw eyes have been pushed into their fronts to serve as handles. The charred top of the cabinet can be flaked off by the thumb nail in large chunks.

The books that are seen on the back shelf in the photo second from right are copies of ordinances originally set up to provide fast reference. Many of these books are falling apart as a result of much use and damage resulting from the vault fire. Only more recent copies from about 1938 to date are comprehensive and provide any means of reference and still many of these more recent ordinances are not properly indexed.

The open file cabinet drawer in the photo at far right shows inances filed prior to the 1938 fire are badly burned and smoked. The manner the original ordinances are filed. Many of the ord-indexing to this file is incomplete with the result that many ordinances are "lost" in the cabinet itself.

Complete Revision Remains Only Cure To Present Chaos

"Button, button, who's got the button?"

The old button game has taken on a new slant at Sedalia's city hall. The general rules have remained the same, but the words have been slightly altered to read, "Ordinance, ordinance, who's got the ordinance?"

It's a game that doesn't hold the player's interest very long or only until he loses his temper, walks out the clerk's office door thoroughly disgusted, or diligently and patiently wades into the confusion and morass of Sedalia's city ordinances in search of a slip of paper that tells him what established a stop sign in his front yard.

One Sedalia lawyer commented, "It's more than just a problem that one casually comes across once or twice a year. Why, I've spent the better part of an afternoon in the city clerk's office trying to find an ordinance that was pertinent to a case for a client."

agreement, of possibly a year. Another said his office wouldn't be too eager for the job, because the magnitude of the project would take too much time away from his general practice. It was also suggested by a member of the bar that the council might enact an ordinance calling for a revision of the present ordinances, asking for bids, and establishing dates for future revisions. One bewildered attorney said, "It is inconceivable that laws governing a city of 25,000 people are so obsolete and disorganized in what could be a very simple file system. I urge Sedalians in the city hall on business to drop into the clerk's office and ask to see the problem we are all so concerned about."

Bicycle Sirens Are Forbidden In City Limits

They Are Considered Dangerous on Road; Will Be Confiscated

Bicycle sirens must go. That is the order put out by Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors Saturday after numerous complaints had been received of bicycles using the sirens and creating confusion in traffic.

A state law prohibits the use of sirens on bicycles. They are not to be used on any vehicles other than those declared emergency, such as police cars, ambulances, emergency wreckers, sheriffs cars and the like.

A report was given the police Saturday where a motorist was driving down Broadway when a bicycle with a siren was riding along and as the car passed, the youth sounded the siren. This resulted in the car swerving to the curb to clear the traffic and endangered the youth on the bicycle, who went cycling on his way laughing.

"It is no laughin' matter," Chief Neighbors expressed himself, "and the practice must stop now. Any bicycle having a siren will be taken to police headquarters, the siren confiscated and the youth turned over to juvenile authorities."

According to law it is possible to confiscate both the bicycle and siren.

"We do not wish to cause these boys any trouble, and we want them to enjoy their bicycling. But we also want them to stay within the law," Chief Neighbors concluded.

Summer Bookmobile Routes Are Now Being Considered

The summer bookmobile schedule is being worked out this week, according to Miss Verna Nistendirk, Boonslick Regional Librarian. If there is a demand for a bookmobile stop in your community and you did not have one last summer, now is the time to make your wishes known.

Bookmobile stops that were not patronized well last summer and that may be dropped this summer unless there seems to be a stronger demand for them right now are: Willing Workers community house, Concord school, Holden store, Burton's Filling Station, Dunksberg, Arthur Dorrance home, and Baker's store. Winter time school stops that were dropped during the summer last year are: High Point, Hope Dale, Southside, Camp Branch, McVey, Walnut and Prairie Grove, all in Pettis County. If there is a demand for Bookmobile stops at these schools, interested persons should make their wishes known immediately so that they may be included in the bookmobile stops.

Summertime bookmobile stops not made during the school months include: Herbert Heins, Lawler's filling station, Bunker Hill crossroads, Harlan Brownfields, Clyde Brownfields, Ernie Smiths, Hall Walks, New Lebanon, Frank Warmbrodts, Mrs. Joe Hickams. If for any reason, these stops should be changed, now is the time for each community to write Miss Verna Nistendirk, Boonslick Regional Librarian, in Sedalia and makes its wishes known.

Lions To Hold Broom, Light Charity Sale

Money Is Earmarked For Charity Items; Set for April 27-28

The Sedalia Lions Club will hold its annual sale for two days and nights, April 27 and 28. This year the Club has added another project along with the broom project, that of selling light bulbs.

Funds from the broom sale are used for the blind, crippled children, and other charity projects. The proceeds from the light bulbs will be used in part for Sight Conservation which is being sponsored along with the Blind Opportunities for the Missouri Blind.

The club has been divided into four groups or teams which will make a door-to-door canvass of the City on the nights of April 27 and 28, taking orders and delivering their merchandise.

The light bulbs will be sold by the bag, known as the "household package."

Money obtained from the broom sale in 1954 were used to purchase a tel-binoocular testing machine to be used by the parochial and other schools of Sedalia, it was the second like machine purchased, the first being placed in the public schools of the city. The money was also used to obtain more than 125 canes for blind persons in Pettis County.

Three child walkers were purchased for the crippled children center and Cerebral Palsy Chapter in Sedalia. They also purchased other equipment to be used in cerebral palsy work, soon to be made available.

With the expanding of the children's center-school, the club desires to provide more necessary furnishing for this project, much needed in the training of these children.

A. B. Warren, chairman of the local club blind committee and also a member of the board of directors of the Business Opportunities for the Missouri Blind, heads up the campaign this year. He has appointed E. B. Smith, past-president, as chairman of the sales program, and both are enthusiastic over the progress of the program.

Over 10,000 light bulbs have been secured in the "household package" and a trailer load of products made by the Missouri Blind have been ordered.

The 100 members of the Lions are anxious to make this a "sell-out" success. These teams will not only canvass the residential areas on the two mentioned nights, but will also make a canvass of the business and industrial areas.

Blue ribbon and award of merit for English poster by Robert DeBord, seventh grade.

April 6 was Billy Wall's ninth birthday and his mother, Mrs. John Wall and his teacher, Mrs. Toldan arranged a lovely birthday party in his honor. All the children in the third grade went to the school cafeteria, where tables were decorated for the party. The Easter theme was carried out in the table covers, napkins, place cards and favors. Two large baskets of colored candy eggs centered the two tables. Refreshments were served. The following children were present at the party: Barbara Anderson, Mary Louise Anderson, Mary Brandhorst, DeLores Birge, Raymond Brown, Bonnie Bruening, Clarence Crum, Raymond Hall, Gary Hieronymus.

SHARPSHOOTER — Cpl. Joe R. Southard, right, Hughesville, receives congratulations and second place trophy for placing in the Advance Section Rifle Matches in France. Col. James H. Fish, deputy commander of the section, makes the award. Cpl. Southard, a truck driver in Company C of the 97th Engineer Battalion, entered the Army in 1943. He received basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark., and arrived in Europe in November, 1952. He attended Greenwich High School. He is the son of Lee Southard.

Sedalia Delegation Will See Chartering Of New Lions Club

The 300th Lions Club to be organized in Missouri is to be chartered at New Franklin on Wednesday night, April 13. Roy Keaton, director-general of Lions International, Chicago, will be the principal speaker at the meeting which is attracting Lions from throughout the state.

Missouri Lions Clubs have increased 100 since 1951 when New Bloomfield was chartered at a charter night meeting in Jefferson City. The Capital City Club sponsored this club.

Boonville Lions are sponsoring the New Franklin Club. A delegation of Sedalia Lions and their wives plan on attending the meeting, headed by President Dr. David Robinson.

Jackie Knight, Christine Knight, Janet Lindemann, Jimmy May, Tommy Newland, Jacquelynne Olson, Freida Mae Richardson, Wayne Senzee, Janet Shane, Keith Smith, Sharon Smith, James Swope, John Southard, Darlene Thompson, Roy Thompson, Dean Vannoy, Linda Williams, Billy Winfrey and Billie Wall.

Mrs. Arthur Senzee visited the third grade room Friday and brought a bag of Easter candy for the children.

The first and second grade children had Easter egg hunts on the school grounds Friday. The first grade had a parade of hats. The children made and decorated the hats made of paper and modeled them for the other elementary grades. Then, to close the day, a film was shown to the lower grades.

Mrs. Burford and Mrs. Dexheimer, first and second grade teachers, represented Hughesville school at the art contest at Lincoln on Wednesday. The children of these two grades did not attend school that day.

Civic Center Interest Of Chamber Clarified

In a recent article stating that servicemen will now be allowed to bring their dates into the newly-opened United Civic Center, it was reported that the Chamber of Commerce board of governors for the Center took that action.

In actual fact, there are four Chamber of Commerce representatives on the board, but they constitute only one interested group. The United Civic Center is a separate, non-profit corporation, with directors chosen from many civic organizations.

The chief Chamber activity was to encourage the initial incorporation of the Center some time ago. Now it shares voting privileges with many representatives and does not have any governing power.

German Revolutionary Rises To Two Highest Positions

This statesman attained the two highest public positions open to Americans of foreign birth—U.S. Senator and member of the president's cabinet. A German revolutionary of 1848, he became a Civil War general, a diplomat, and a newspaper editor. Do you know his name?

1. Where was he born?

A. He was born in Liblar, a little village on the Rhine, just south of Cologne, Germany, in 1829. A student at the University of Bonn, he withdrew in order to take part in the Revolution of 1848. Expelled from Germany, he fled to Paris and then to London. In 1852, he came to the United States, settling in Philadelphia.

2. How did he enter politics?

A. He moved to Wisconsin in 1855, where he studied law and was admitted to the bar. He joined the new Republican party and was an unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant-governor in 1857. Chairman of the Wisconsin delegation to the Republican convention of 1860, he voted for Seward but warmly supported Lincoln after the latter received the nomination. In return for his forensic efforts during the campaign, Lincoln appointed him minister to Spain.

3. What was his role during the Civil War?

A. Obtaining a commission as brigadier-general, he resigned his mission in Spain in 1861 to enter the Union army. After the war President Johnson asked him to visit the South and report on conditions there. His report was hostile to Johnson's conciliatory policy and followed the Stevens-Sumner Congressional plan of reconstruction.

4. How did he serve Missouri?

A. He began his career in Missouri in 1867 as editor of the St. Louis Westliche Post, a German language daily. He quickly attained a commanding influence among the Germans of St. Louis, whose voting strength made him a leader in the Republican party of the state. In 1869, he was elected United States senator, serving until 1875. In the Senate he introduced a bill to create a permanent civil service merit system and attacked the corruption of the Grant regime. He probably did more than any other man to promote the Liberal Republican party and presided at its presidential nominating convention in 1872. He also helped to organize the people's party movement.

5. What did he accomplish as a cabinet member?

A. In 1877, he entered the cabinet of President Hayes as Secretary of the Interior. Among his services to the nation in this office were an enlightened treatment of the Indians, installation of a merit promotion system in his department, preservation of the public domain, and the beginning of national park development.

6. What profession did he follow in later life?

A. On leaving the cabinet in 1881, he moved to New York City and again took up journalism. Until 1883 he was editor of the New York Evening Post. From that date

Sedalia-SAFB Bus Run Seen As Success

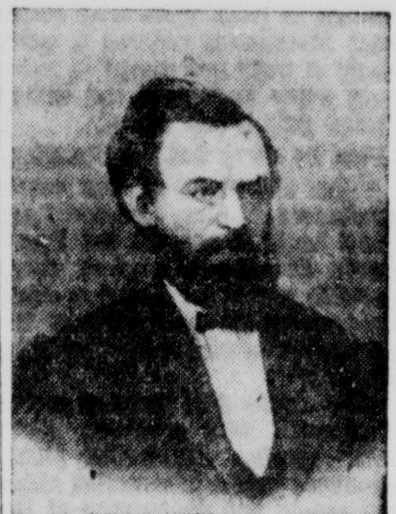

The newly-restored Sedalia-SAFB bus run during off-duty hours seems to be a success as far as can be determined at such an early date.

Approximately 300 men used the facility during its first four days of operation last week—a figure that exceeded expectations and is even more important considering that the bus will only hold 37 passengers at a time. If such response continues, there should be no difficulty in making the bus run permanent after its 30-day trial period which began last Friday. The Motor Vehicle Squadron Commander, Major James J. Braun announced that the decision to continue the bus also depends upon the conduct of its passengers, not only the number of them. So far at least, no cases of misconduct have been reported.

Coffee Break Costly

ENID, Okla., April 9 (AP)—Stan Hampton, service station attendant, took a $149 coffee break today.

He told police he locked the station and went down the street for coffee at 2 a.m. When he returned, he related, he found burglars had broken in and stolen the cash register containing $149.

This German-born reformer became a power in Missouri journalism and politics.

until 1898 he was editor of Harper's Weekly. He opposed Free Silver, the Spanish-American War, and the acquisition of empire in 1898; he incessantly advocated civil service reform. He died in New York City on May 14, 1906, and was buried in the Sleepy Hollow Cemetery at Tarrytown, New York.

7. What was his name?

A. Carl Schurz.

Local Guards Alerted For 'Minuteman'

Operation Strictly Training Procedure For Nation's Units

Headquarters, 35th Infantry Division and Battery "C" 128th Field Artillery Battalion, Sedalia units of the Missouri National Guard will play an important part in the largest single mobilization in the history of the National Guard operation Minuteman to be held sometime this spring.

Maj. Gen. John C. McLaughlin, division commander of the 35th Infantry division, wishes to advise all citizens of this area that "Operation Minuteman" is being planned only for training purposes, and to test the mobilization plans of all Army and Air National Guard units throughout the state of Missouri and the nation.

"For that reason," he said, "We ask the people of the Sedalia area not to be alarmed when this test alert is sounded and our National Guard units are temporarily mobilized."

Gen. McLaughlin emphasized that the exact date and time of "Operation Minuteman" will be kept secret. The alert orders will come directly from the State Adjutant General, and will be coordinated with simultaneous alerts in the other states.

Nearly 400,000 guardsmen, including the officers and men of Headquarters 35th Infantry Division and Battery "C" 128th Field Artillery Battalion, in more than 2,200 other communities will participate in "Operation Minuteman."

The order for the alert will be received by our local unit from General Sheppard at a coordinated time with all other states and territories of the United States. Although some states have held test alert exercises in the past, "Operation Minuteman" will be the first time in history that the entire National Guard has been mobilized at one time. All units of the Guard were ordered into Federal service during the year prior to Pearl Harbor, however, they were ordered into service in increments and not on a single day.

Civil Service Requests Clerks' Applications

The Ninth U. S. Civil Service region is requesting applications from clerks in the western half of Missouri including Putnam, Sullivan, Linn, Chariton, Howard, Cooper, Morgan, Camden, Laclede, Wright, Douglas, Ozark and others west of those named. Starting salaries range from $2500 to $2950 a year.

Applicants must pass a written test. Appropriate education above high school level should be listed in place of or in addition to experience. The age limit of 18 is waived for person entitled to veteran preference. There is no maximum age.

Obtain applications from any post office.

Symphony Date Has Been Moved To April 26

Harry Walch, president of the Sedalia Symphony Society, announced yesterday that the fourth and last concert of the Sedalia Symphony Orchestra under Conductor Abe Rosenthal, has been changed from April 25 to April 26 in order to permit as many of the symphony's patrons to attend other conflicting meetings on April 25.

Mr. Walch stated that the guest artist, Pauline Deniston, soprano, was courteous enough to permit the change of dates, and through this arrangement the symphony could set its concert back one night. The concert will be held at the Smith-Cotton auditorium at 8:15 p.m. as originally scheduled.

Couple Is Wed On Parents' 25th Wedding Day

Miss Jennie Louise Fain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fain, Sweet Springs, exchanged vows with Mr. Lorenz Merle Haesemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Haesemeyer, Emma, at seven o'clock Sunday evening, March 27, at the Holy Cross Lutheran Church. This date was chosen as it marked the 25th wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents and was also the birthday of the bride's mother. The Rev. William Hepting performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of pink snapdragons and lighted tapers in candelabra.

Mr. Wilbert Eggers, Emma, played the traditional wedding music. He also accompanied Mr. Roland Fischer, Emma, as he sang, "Oh Perfect Love."

Miss Kay Joyce Hoepfner, Corde, and Miss Jewel Forsha, Lexington, cousins of the groom, lighted the candles. They were attired in light rose and dark rose waltz length gowns with white accessories and carried candles adorned with Marguerite daisies.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown featuring a double nylon net redingote-effect skirt edged in lace over accordion pleated net. The fitted bodice was designed with short sleeves and she wore matching lace gauntlets. A wreath of forget-me-nots held her fingertip lace-edged veil in place. She carried a bouquet of red roses on a white lace covered prayer book.

Miss Ann Fain, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a powder blue waltz length gown with navy velvet bodice and white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Shirley Kirchoff, Sweet Springs, and Miss Nola Loges, Concordia, were bridesmaids.

Mr. Ormand Hinck, Concordia, served as best man. Witnesses were Mr. Earl Fain, Jr., and Mr. Ralph Venable. Mr. James Dierking, Emma, and Mr. Marion Barker, Buckner, were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue and pink dress with navy accessories accented with a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother was attired in gray suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was also of pink roses.

A reception was held at 8 o'clock at the VFW hall for 250 guests.

Miss Joyce Thomas and Miss Darlene Forbes, both of Sweet Springs, served at the reception. Miss Margaret Driver, Sweet Springs, was in charge of the guest book.

When the couple left on a trip to the Lake of the Ozarks the bride was wearing a pink suit with navy accessories and corsage of red roses.

They will reside in Sweet Springs.

The bridegroom graduated from Concordia High School and served with the Army for two years. He is employed at Emma Creamery Co.

Mrs. Robert G. Crouch

Carolyn Stewart, Robert Crouch, Are Wed In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Carolyn Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Stewart, 1640 South Carr, became the bride of Mr. Robert G. Crouch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vern E. Crouch, LaMonte, in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening, April 2 at the First Methodist Church.

The double ring ceremony was read at seven o'clock by the Rev. Elmer L. Hobbs before a setting of jade foliage and bouquets of pink and white snapdragons, canations and gladioli illuminated by lighted tapers in four seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the pews.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. C. D. Demand, organist, played "Indian Love Call", "To An Evening Star", "Melody of Love", and "Bells of St. Marys". As the mothers were being seated she played "Always" and during the ceremony, "To a Wild Rose". The traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Mary Lou Mitchell and Miss Shirley Siegel lighted the candles as Mrs. Demand played "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life". The candlelighters wore identical floor length gowns of powder blue taffeta with net overskirts. Their headbands of matching net were trimmed with pearls. They wore wrist corsages of pink carnations and their candles were tied with pink satin.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of Rosepoint lace and nylon tulle over white tulle designed with a snug fitted bodice and Queen Ann collar of matching lace above the nylon tulle yoke. The long sleeves tapered to points over the hands. The very full overskirt of Rosepoint lace formed an inverted V at the front which revealed a full skirt of tulle over satin and lengthened into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of nylon net cascaded from a small scalloped cap of nylon net and lace which was trimmed with pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis tied with white satin.

Miss Joan Overmier was the bride's only attendant. She wore a floor length gown of royal blue taffeta with blue and white net overskirt. Her headband of matching blue net was trimmed with pearls and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and net puffs tied with a deeper shade of pink satin.

Mr. Richard Crouch, Kansas City, served as best man for his brother.

Mr. Bill Mergen, Kansas City, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Larry Wells, LaMonte, were ushers.

Both mothers were attired in navy crepe dresses with pink accessories and pink carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room for 250 guests.

Miss Loretta Harper, Miss Shirley Bryan, Miss Mary Ann Dick and Miss Glenna Sue Stewart, sister of the bride, served at the reception. Mrs. Thomas Lee, Warrensburg, had charge of the guest book.

The newlyweds left for Iowa following the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School and prior to her marriage was employed in the office of Town and Country Shoes.

The bridegroom graduated from LaMonte High School and is employed in Grinnell, Ia.

After April 9 they will be at home in Grinnell, Ia.

Bridal Showers Compliment Miss C. Stewart

Miss Carolyn Stewart, now Mrs. Robert G. Crouch, was honored with two bridal showers prior to her marriage last Saturday evening.

Miss Joan Overmier entertained with a china and crystal shower in Miss Stewart's honor at her home, 1844 West Third.

A large wedding ring centered with a miniature bride and groom surrounded with carnations centered the dining room table.

Games were played with awards going to Mrs. Vern Crouch, Miss Carolyn Heck and the honoree.

Miss Overmier was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. H. L. Overmier.

Invited guests were: Miss Stewart, her mother, Mrs. Glenn Stewart, Mrs. Vern Crouch, Miss Mary Ann Dick, Miss Heck, Miss Shirley Seigel, Miss Loretta Harper, Miss Mary Lou Angerman, Miss Josephine White and Mrs. Sterile Criswell.

A linen shower was given in her honor by Mrs. Thomas M. Lee, 208 South Quincy.

A bouquet of jonquils and forsythia flanked by yellow tapers formed the color scheme.

The prize for the game went to Mrs. Marion Edmundson.

Miss Stewart followed a long length of ribbon which led to a clothes hamper filled with her gifts.

Mrs. Lee was assisted in serving by Mrs. Terry Pile.

Guests were: Miss Stewart, Mrs. Glenn Stewart, Mrs. Vern Crouch, Mrs. Marion Edmundson, Mrs. Sonny Broyles, Misses Glenna Stewart, Joan Pasley, Shirley Seigel and Mary Lou Mitchell.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Joe Mergen, Mrs. Sterile Criswell, Miss Joan Overmier and Miss Alberta Lane.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Bowers, father of the bridegroom, at 8 o'clock Friday evening, April 1, at the Paseo Methodist Church in Kansas City.

The bride wore a two-piece pink Irish linen dress with pink and white accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Miss Evelyn Heine, Topeka, Kan., was maid of honor. She wore a pale blue linen dress with navy and white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Mr. George Warren, Topeka, Kan., served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowers are residing at 1407 South Barrett.

Mrs. Bowers is employed with the accounting department of Pittsburgh Corning Corp. and Mr. Bowers is employed at the Hausam Company and is also a Methodist minister.

Establishes Child Welfare Service For Pettis County

Mrs. Ena Killingsworth Named To Head New Unit; Will Work Jointly With Juvenile Court

A local child welfare unit for Pettis County has just been established, according to Miss Roseanne Dugan, director of the Pettis County Welfare Office.

The unit is sponsored by the State Division of Welfare and the Pettis County Court, in addition to the Children's Bureau in Washington, D. C., and is to work cooperatively with the Pettis County Juvenile Court.

Mrs. Ena Killingsworth has been assigned as the child welfare worker by the Division of Welfare.

Service available through the establishment of the new unit include the following:

Preventive and protective services in their own homes or in homes of relatives.

Placement of children in need of foster care as a result of parental inability to care for a child, abandonment, or neglect.

Casework services to unmarried mothers and their children and illegitimately pregnant girls and women.

Services to children presenting behavior and emotional problems. Services to children who are mentally deficient, retarded or mentally ill.

Services to children having physical health problems or handicaps. Recruitment and study of foster homes.

Inter state placement of children. Services to children who are referred by other agencies in Missouri or by other Division of Welfare county offices.

Adoptive studies. As Miss Dugan points out, these services are made possible through the combined efforts of county, state and federal funds. The above free services are at the disposal of all citizens of Pettis County. The aim of child welfare services in this state is "healthy children."

Whenever possible, concentrated efforts will be made to strengthen and preserve weakened family ties in order that a child can remain in his home and thereby receive the foundation for forthcoming maturity.

Mrs. Killingsworth is the wife of W. S. Killingsworth, sales representative for Richard Conover Manufacturers, and she is the mother of a grown daughter. Although she was a teacher for a while, she has been consistently employed as a social worker by the Division of Welfare since 1939.

Her graduate work was taken at the School of Social Work at Washington University in St. Louis. She came to Pettis County from Greene County, where she worked many years as a supervisor of social service in the Greene County welfare office.

Mrs. Killingsworth will be glad for people who are interested in helping children who are neglected, dependent, homeless, or in danger of becoming delinquent, to get in touch with her at the Pettis County Welfare Office located at 302 East Sixth.

Contest Ends At Election Held by MPS

Management of Missouri Public Service Co. and an independent stockholders committee headed by Percival E. Jackson co-operated today in electing nine management nominees, Jackson and Mills M. Fries to the board of directors at the annual stockholders meeting held in Warrensburg Wednesday.

The voting stock cast for management's slate of directors was 77 per cent. These shares of stock were owned by 86 per cent of the shareholders voting.

Shareholders also authorized increasing the number of common stock shares from the present 530,000 shares to 2,000,000 shares and a 3 for 1 stock split. The split will be accomplished by issuing each stockholder two additional shares for each one presently held.

The election ended a month-long proxy contest between management and a group of Eastern investors led by Jackson.

R. J. Geen, president of Missouri Public Service Co., said that the large majority of stockholders voting for the company was "very gratifying" and, to him, was an indication of general satisfaction and confidence in management's stewardship.

Such stewardship he added, has resulted in a rapid and continuing growth and expansion of the company over the past 15 years.

"This mandate from our stockholders encourages all employees of the company to continue to work unceasingly in the interests of our customers and shareholders," Mr. Geen declared.

In addition to Jackson and Fries, management nominated stockholders elected were: R. J. Geen, Richard C. Green and H. F. Parker, all of Warrensburg; Arthur Chenault, Richmond; R. F. Jackson, Lexington; John C. McCarty, Liberty; A. Z. Patterson, Kansas City; H. S. Payson Rowe, Boston, Mass.; and A. G. Smith, Nevada.

Atoms-For-Peace Program Awaits Allies Approval

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States is awaiting approval from seven Allied nations of a proposed constitution setting up an international agency to carry out President Eisenhower's atoms-for-peace plan.

Informed sources said last night the agreement is being considered by Britain, France, Canada, Belgium, Australia, South Africa and Portugal.

Britain, France, Australia and Canada long have been partners with the United States in atomic negotiations. South Africa and the African possessions of Belgium and Portugal have large uranium deposits.

The informants added that the United States and its allies are keeping the door open for Russia to join in the atomic program but they gave no indication whether the Kremlin has tipped its intentions. Russia has been talking recently about her own atomic agency, through which she promises to relay nuclear knowledge to other Iron Curtain countries.

Morehead Patterson, U.S. representative in the atomic negotiations, London yesterday he hoped the international agency would be in business by the time the "hottest day of summer arrives."

Sullivan County Seat In Jefferson City Declared Vacant

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The House Elections Committee decided early today no one was legally elected as Sullivan County representative in the tangled election last November.

The committee concluded that because of the many reported voting irregularities the office of representative is actually vacant.

The committee chairman, Rep. James McKinley Neal (D) of Jackson County said Gov. Phil M. Donnelly will be asked to call a special election to fill the vacancy.

A majority report on the fight probably will be filed next week, Neal said. Republican members of the Elections Committee are expected to file a minority report at the same time.

Ex-Kansas City Mayor Dies Following Stroke

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Frank H. Cromwell, 77, former mayor of Kansas City, died today. He had suffered a stroke two weeks ago.

A wholesale butter and egg dealer, Cromwell served as mayor from 1922 to 1924, but was defeated in a bid for reelection. Cromwell's business was a depression casualty and he later became a liquor salesman and more recently was a deputy sheriff, serving as a Circuit Court bailiff.

how serious this is," he said. "If you were 17 or older these charges of the various acts could range in prosecution and punishment from a fine of $1 to a year in jail and possibly 25 years in the penitentiary. That's how serious this matter is. We do not want to file charges against you which would cause a blemish on your life. We want to impress on you the fact that such conduct could continue on through later years in your life. We want to help you now.

"Under 17 these charges can be compiled together or separately. They would mean delinquency. Any future violations and those behind you can be lumped together, information filed and cause you to be taken before the juvenile court on delinquency charges. If guilty, you could be sent to the training school at Boonville for confinement under the supervision of the court until you are 21 years of age.

"I don't know, but this appears one of the biggest rings of juveniles in crime ever brought together with definite leaders. Apparently all you committed these acts just for the 'kick' you get out of it, and look what it has done for you and your parents. I don't see a boy among you who hasn't had some Scouting, Junior Optimist athletics and other athletics at Smith-Cotton. Some of you boys are supposed to be leaders and examples for the rest of your class. What kind of leadership is this?" he asked.

"Cecil Glenn, juvenile officer, and myself want to be considerate. The decision, as far as we are concerned, rests on you and your parents. Our purpose is to extend protection a little farther, and it makes no difference who you are or who your parents are. We want to see 19 useful citizens out of you boys instead of a bunch of hoodlums. It depends upon you and your parents," Barrick said.

The conditions laid down by Barrick cover a six-month period. The boys are to be at home by 10 o'clock every night in the week except on Saturday and that night they can stay out until 11 o'clock. However, not to interfere with school activities. If they should run later than 10 p.m. you boys must be at your homes within 30 minutes after such activity. You may go out after 10 p.m. only if you are accompanied by your parent or parents.

"The purpose is not to file an information at this time, but I am placing you under strict supervision of Mr. Glenn and your parents. It is a definite rule of your conduct not to get in anymore trouble of any kind, and that includes traffic violations. When this six months is up, it does not mean you are 'scott free' of your acts up until you are 17 and past. You are still liable for your past and present acts. With any violation you are laying yourself liable to the penalties I mentioned before.

"So it's up to you and your parents, now is the time to accept, to wipe out the blemish on your life. I want you boys and parents to fully understand what we are asking and what you will do," Barrick concluded and walked from the room.

Red China Now Boasts Fleet of Jet Bombers Based Near Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Soviet-built jet bombers of the Chinese Communist air force now are stationed at Shanghai and bases to the south within range of Formosa, intelligence reports showed today.

Official quarters said they had no precise figure on how many, but believe it to be relatively small.

The jet bombers are based in area, from 320 to 420 miles north of Formosa.

Unofficial quarters estimated the Chinese Reds have between 100 and 200 jet bombers, but apparently only a fraction thus far have been transferred to bases at Shanghai and southward.

Wilson, Windsor; C. A. Wilson, St. Charles, and John Wilson, Pasadena, Calif.

He was preceded in death by his parents; and two sisters, Mrs. Millie Laughlin, Windsor, and Mrs. Mrs. Eleanor Miller, Lincoln.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Reser Funeral Chapel in Lincoln with the Rev. E. O. Farier, pastor of the Lincoln Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in the Lincoln Cemetery.
